

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS LOSES MUNICIPAL AIRPORT

The airport story

Washington red tape had the fate of Arlington Airport all tied up with a woolen string until politics did a bit of cutting. America would never have won the war if the pilots who received initial training at the Arlington field took as long to make up their minds, when in a combat, as did navy officials to make up its minds as to the disposal of the Arlington airstrip.

A "blow-by-blow" account of the juggling of the airport would have filled many columns in this paper. Under repeated assurances of admirals and navy captains that "everything was in the bag" except the official announcement, the municipal airport committee wrote reams of letters, filed many reports, answered a lot of questions and personally paid expenses of trips to Washington. The village, accepting the navy's announcement of plans for disposal of airports, secured the release of priority claims of the State of Illinois and the County of Cook. The village of Arlington Heights was next in line.

Surplus property

As a surplus item the property could be turned over to the municipality, but when it was removed from surplus and placed in the hands of Department of Yards and Docks, it was a different story. It was then that the local committee learned that private interests were endeavoring to get the use of the field. The committee sent a representative to Washington with a complete file of all previous correspondence with the navy proper, including recommendations of local naval officials, approval of Department of Aeronautics of the State of Illinois. Included were encouraging letters and telegrams received from Washington.

Navy once friendly to plan

In October, 1946, the office of the chief of naval operations, Washington, wrote: "The navy department looks with favor upon your proposals and is endeavoring to expedite action in order that the field can be made available to municipal use."

One morning in December a telegram was received from Washington fixing December 15 as the final date when the village could make an offer in competition to the private company. At the request of the committee, the time was extended one month. The committee decided that it had no power to buy the airport, neither had it any power to enter into a contract for a cash rental.

It again presented its moral claim to the airport, based on announced policies of the government for the disposal of such tracts to political bodies. During these months the General Airport Co. of Stamford, Conn., at the request of the government published "A Comprehensive Study Relating to Aeronautical Facilities for Metropolitan Area of Chicago projected to 1970."

That report outlined the part that municipal airports would play in the development of air travel and the importance of the Arlington strip to the northwest area.

In commenting on the situation last week before he knew that the navy had made a definite decision, C. M. Behrens said:

"We have received only wholehearted support from naval officials at Glenview, the civil aeronautics administration, state and county officials, and especially the Illinois department of aeronautics, and Sen. Brooks has worked hard for our project."

Tied up in red tape

"But in Washington," he continued, "we ran into a morass of red tape, dead ends, procrastination, indecision, plain old fashioned run-around, and, in some quarters, ill concealed hostility."

"We have been pushed around so much in Washington we don't know where we stand in this matter any more," he said. Hinting at the possibility of "politics" in Washington, Behrens said that at one point in the negotiations the village was not immediately advised of a change in the status of the air strip which advice would have enabled Arlington Heights to renew its bid for the air strip with proper authorities.

Meanwhile "the competing company retained counsel in Washington which apparently has been successful in scuttling the village's project," Behrens said.

Navy leases tract to private firm; cash outweighs municipal claims

Arlington Heights has lost its proposed airport. The navy has accepted the offer of the Illinois Aircraft Services and Sales Company. Such offer is reported to be $12,000 a year. Word of the final action by the government did not reach Forrest Davis, village clerk, until Tuesday, although Senator Brooks, in a telegram received last week, advised

The axe falls...

NAVY DEPARTMENT
Washington 25, D. C.
19 Feb 1947
The Village of Arlington
Arlington, Illinois
Attention: Carl M. Behrens,
Chairman
Arlington Heights
Airport Committee
Gentlemen:

In reply to your letter of January 11, 1947, relative to the possibility of the grant of a lease to the Village of Arlington Heights covering the United States Naval Outlying Airfield located in that vicinity, or of a purchase of the area by the Village, please be advised that it has been determined that it will be to the best interest of the Government to negotiate a lease with the Illinois Aircraft Services and Sales Company inasmuch as the latter's offer has been determined to be more advantageous.

Very truly yours,
Jack E. Cochrane,
By direction of Chief of Bureau.

Vet of two wars killed by hit and run driver at Wheeling

Erwin W. Backer, a veteran of both world wars, was killed instantly at Wheeling Sunday morning when walking on Milwaukee ave., near Wolf road. Due to the packed snow on the sides of the road, he was walking on the pavement. Not only was he hit by a hit and run driver, but the car passed over his head.

Military services were held Tuesday under the auspices of Legion Post No. 36 of Des Plaines. Interment was in Ridgewood, Rev. Potter officiating.

Sgt. Backer was employed by Mrs. Burda, Mt. Prospect, at the time he volunteered near the start of World War II, entering the service from Arlington Hts. Selective Service office. He was born in Berlin in 1899 and was able to speak German, French and Japanese and was frequently called upon as an interpreter. Sgt. Backer learned the chef's trade in Germany and worked at some of the big hotels in Chicago, performing such duties as a long period at Camp McCoy.

The sergeant was a cousin of Mrs. F. W. Evanger and while visiting at the Evangers', had been assisting at their plant.

The Evangers say that the acts of Des Plaines Post is an example of the service that war service organizations give in times such as this one.

Christian Science church dedication at Arlington Heights

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Arlington Heights, will dedicate on Sunday, March 2, the building in which its services have been held since February, 1929. Two services will be held in the church edifice located on North Dunton ave. at Fremont st. The morning service will be at 11 o'clock and the afternoon service at 4:30.

Christian Science churches, wherever they may be, are dedicated only when free from debt.

Paddock Publications add new features

In its constant effort to remain one of the best-read newspapers in the Chicago area, Paddock Publications at this time is adding two new features to their news columns. "Modern Etiquette" is a question and answer type that will provide a good test for the "family fireside" in the evening. "Lesson in English" will increase readers' knowledge of correct usage, pronunciation and spelling of English words and phrases. They can be found this week on page 22.

Court appoints receiver for Mayfair Foods

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were started last week against Mayfair Food Products, Arlington Heights. A receiver took over the plant and all assets Friday morning. The court named John H. Chatz, a LaSalle street attorney, as receiver. Employees, with two weeks pay checks, were unable to cash them. Al Schwartzoff, engineer of the building, has been named custodian. A firm of auditors is engaged upon the books. All employees have been told not to report for work until otherwise notified.

Schwartz & Cooper, attorneys for the firm, told Paddock Publications Wednesday that efforts are being made to raise sufficient funds to get the company out of its difficulty, which is largely attributed to the increased cost of the building, against which there is a $110,000 first mortgage held by the Terminal National Bank and a second mortgage of $44,000, half of which has been paid.

Zoning board of appeals ok's re-zoning S. State

The Arlington Heights Zoning Board of Appeals held a public hearing at the Municipal building Tuesday evening in response to petitions to re-zone the property on south State road from Grove street to Central road (all on the west side of the street), from its present classification of "commercial" to residential class-A.

Also included in the petition and hearing was the property on South Evergreen avenue on the east side of the street between Fairview and Orchard street, zoned for 2 flats or apartments.

A delegation of over 25 property owners living in the immediate vicinity of the property in question supported the petitioners stating their various views of the desirability of the rezoning to residential class A. Mr. Wm. Trude, representing the owners of over half of the lots in question between Fairview street and Central road on State road addressed the Board of Appeals favoring rezoning.

Mr. John Hines, local business man stated that he had recently purchased a lot at the corner of Fairview and State road with the understanding it was commercial property and while he had no intention presently of using it for a business location, he felt the value would be decreased considerably if the property was to be re-zoned to residential.

The zoning board of appeals decided unanimously to recommend that said property be re-zoned to residential property for single family dwellings. The recommendation will be tendered to the Village Board and if the recommendation is concurred in, an ordinance will be passed to amend the zoning ordinance accordingly.

It has been the opinion of the Plan and Zoning Commission for several years that Arlington Hts. had too much commercial property. Almost all of the property in Stonegate subdivision fronting on Northwest highway, that portion in Arlington Park on the Highway, and all of Scarsdale fronting S. State road has been rezoned from commercial to residential in the past two years.

Assessor postpones meeting with Wheeling farm land advisors

At the request of the office of the Cook County Assessor the meeting scheduled with the farm land valuers of Wheeling township has been postponed to March 5. Members of the committee who are assisting the local assessor, Theo. Studtmann, J. Fred Meyer, Henry Burneiser, Gus Behrens and Alfred Busse.

Also meeting that day with representatives of the assessor's office will be C. M. Behrens, Walter Krause, Paul Collins and Herbert Jacobsen for the village of Arlington Heights; Lawrence Wallwork and Allan Armstrong for Prospect Heights, and L. C. Holtje, village of Wheeling.

Blame amber light for auto-truck crash

Nicholas Mayer, 1248 Kensington Road, Arlington Heights, is the surprised man pictured at the right, who was the driver of the car that collided Tuesday evening with a Gold Star truck at the intersection of Evergreen and Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

His car was badly wrecked and the tractor, section of the semi-job did not fare much better, but the two drivers received only minor injuries. The driver of the truck was William R. Webster of Hillcrest Road, Palatine.

The truck driver states that the light turned amber as he arrived at the intersection and he was unable to stop. Mayer says that he had the green light. Mayer had just finished a painting job and was southbound. The truck was traveling west. The right side of the tractor hit the right side of the car. The impact caused the tractor to pass over a high packed section of snow and ice which caused it to overturn, which in turn, overturned the trailer. Traffic on both lanes of the highway was temporarily redirected by the police.

Extend bus service for Arlington Park and Thomas street

Harvel Motor Coach Co. has filed an application with the Illinois Commerce Commission for an extension of existing bus routes which will give added service to Arlington Park residents, the North Dunton and State road area to Thomas street and the south side.

The extension in Arlington Park will be in the form of a loop that extends on Elm from Patten ave. to Illinois street, thence north to Oakton, then east to Patton ave.

The present service on the north side ends at Willow. The proposed service will extend to Thomas street on both Dunton ave. and State road.

South extension
The new route in the southern part of the village will go south on Dunton to Maple st., thence west to Mitchell; north to Campbell, east to business district.

The official notice for the extension appears in this paper. The application includes provision for special service for employees of Grigsby Allison factory.

An extension in Scarsdale is proposed, using Lincoln for the end of the loop in place of Beverly Lane.

Many attend funeral of racing official

Arlington Heights was well represented Monday afternoon at the funeral of Pat Calvert, who has been identified with racing at Washington Park and Arlington Park the past ten years.

Officially he was stallman, assigning quarters to the racing stables at both tracks. He came from Ireland when nine years old with a racing stable and had a large acquaintance among trainers and horse owners.

Those who attended the funeral at Chicago Heights from Arlington were Clarence and Harold Brinkman, Fred Hintz, Floyd Plomoff, Otto and John Nichols, Lester Dobbins and C. A. Skoog.

Herald receives pledge for teacher housing

Paddock Publications has received the first pledge towards an Arlington Heights teacher-housing fund. Accompanying the pledge was a statement that it was being primarily made to make possible the retention of Mr. Iba and Mr. Larsen as members of the high school faculty.

The subscriber told the editor, "I have been informed that unless these teachers find houses in which to live by April 1, they will leave their present positions. I feel that they are contributing a lot to the school and that Arlington friends of the school should see to it that the houses be found."

"Maine township permitted the erection of temporary houses on its high school property. Arlington Heights has acquired considerable property which it does not need at the moment and it can not be put to a better use than temporary housing for teachers."

"This offer of $200 is being made as a suggestion for other friends of the school to make similar offers of that or greater amounts. I am prepared to raise my subscription if necessary to assure the success of the proposition."

The high school board is not allowed by law to enter the housing game, but it can allow the erection of temporary buildings on its property. The teachers would be charged a fair rent which could be applied to make the proposition self-liquidating in time. "If the housing shortage ends before we get our money back, that is alright, too," was the parting shot of the caller.

Arlington Municipal Airport? — Only A Dream!

The Arlington Heights airport committee learned recently its 13 month negotiations with the navy and federal agencies in Washington to acquire the Glenview naval air base satellite air strip southwest of the village for a municipal airport had been in vain. The committee has been advised a private company has been given a lease to the property. The air strip, comprising 249 acres of government owned and leased land, was used by navy fledgling flyers during World War II.

Chamber of Commerce elects directors

Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting Monday night, electing four directors. Under the rules of the organization, a director cannot succeed himself. The directors chosen are Dr. Baumann, D. Brown, Wm. Luehring and Ray Yostin. They will hold office three years. The directors will meet soon and elect officers. Refreshments followed the meeting.

The coming 4-H Club fair was the main topic of discussion Monday evening. Herman Hintz, general chairman, announced that it is planned to issue a program which will have a double purpose, giving the names of the various classes that will be on exhibition with the program of the two days' events and by the sale of advertisements underwrite the ex-

Voters' registration Saturday and Monday, March 1 and 3

If you are not properly registered for voting, Forrest Davis, Village Clerk announces that registrations will be taken on March 1 and 3 during regular business hours in the Municipal Offices. This is the last opportunity to register for the coming Village election of April 15, 1947. For the convenience of those who cannot call during regular business hours, Davis will hold office hours Saturday evening, March 1, from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

If you were properly registered at the last election in November, 1946, it is not necessary to register again, unless you have moved to a new address.

Realtors hear
Paul H. Noland

Mr. Noland, Assistant Loan Officer, of the First Federal Savings Loan Association of Chicago, was the guest speaker at the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors at Sobie's Restaurant, Rand road, Mt. Prospect, Thursday evening February 20 at 7 p.m.
A large group of enthusiastic Realtors, their guests, Associates, and Affiliates heard Mr. Noland discuss the subject, "Appraising Suburban Homes." After his talk a very beneficial half hour was spent in questions and answers, and in discussions by various Realtors present.
Mr. O. T. Berg, Advertising Manager, of the Realty and Building Magazine, formerly the Economist, was present as our guest. He took several group pictures of the Board for future publication.
The Board is planning a social meeting in March, further details of which will be published later.

School heads to attend administrators national meeting

R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights elementary schools and E. A. Ehrhorn, principal of the Arlington Heights high school, are leaving this week end to attend the meeting of the American Association of School Administrators which is meeting at Atlantic City.
Regional meetings replaced the annual meetings during the war. Also attending the meeting is Chas. Close, of the Arlington Seating Co. and T. L. Miller and W. R. Springer of E. W. A. Rowles Co.
Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, accompanied by Mrs. Puffer, will also attend the Atlantic City meeting.

Sale of old Dist. 58

An election of voters in Elk Grove Consolidated School District 58 will be held March 8 to authorize the sale of District 58 old school house which has not been used for school purposes for many years. District 61 school house was sold last year.

The school board has dropped for the present all plans for an addition to the present school building at the intersection of Higgins and Touhy avenue. Rumors are current that a new six lane highway will be constructed north of the school. A school building surrounded by speed highways would not be good sense, think the board members who are looking forward to the time when a new site must be found.

Exit 'Douglas' airport enter 'Chicago Orchard Airport'
Even the politicians don't know it, but the official name for Douglas Airport is Chicago Orchard Airport. So you may as well get used to it.
How did the name originate?
There are as many conflicting views about the origin of the name Chicago Orchard as there are about the city's own monicker. A search of musty newspaper morgues and city files revealed nothing to a battery of "pressed into-service-historians" working for Ralph H. Burke, airport engineer.
The Chicago Public Library insists that its version at least is the most probable.
On the line of the Soo railroad which runs near the airport is a tiny way station called Orchard Place. This said library officials, prompted the United States army to give the name of Orchard Place airport to what is destined to be the world's largest airport.
And while Chicagoans gave the field the name of Douglas in honor of the large aircraft plant in the vicinity, army plans showed the airport to be Orchard Place.
When Chicago acquired ownership, the city retained the Orchard part of the name and added its own handle before it, thus: Chicago Orchard Airport.

To reorganize Den 8 of Arlington Cubs

After several months of being inactive, Den 8, of Arlington Heights cub pack 232, has been reorganized and will hold its first meeting Friday, February 8, at 7 p. m., at the home of the new den dad, Perry R. Thomas, 519 South Vail ave. Mr. Thomas will be assisted by Gerald N. Morrissey, as assistant den dad.

Den 8 will have the following members: Douglass Morrissey, Randal Thomas, David Karstens, George Orth, Peter Runde and Burton Emick and all members are urged to be on hand so that the den can start out on the achievement trail. Any new cub candidate named Richard will be welcomed to open the door.

Den 9, which recently graduated Craig Baldwin and Steve Kyska into scouting, enrolled a new member at the last den meeting, David Browne, 702 N. Dunton ave. In place of the regular den meeting, cubs of den 9 will attend the Boy Scout Court of Honor to be held Friday evening at the North school.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

BILL NORTH

The chill in the air failed to put any chill on the spirit of the 102 Rumble Inn members who participated in the Roller Jamboree last Monday.

The buses were at the field house at 7:00 p. m. and arrived at the Fox Roller Rink at 8:00 p. m. For the next two and a half hours everybody skated, sang and in many cases spilled. At 10:30 the buses left for Arlington and arrived at about 11:00. Chaperons for the party were Mrs. Muriel Mills and Miss Dorothy Hauff.

This second Y. C. roller party was such a success that plans are progressing on a third. Everyone concerned with the Roller Party are to be congratulated. Mrs. Mills, Miss Hauff and the Y. C. entertainment committee for their wonderful preparations and the kids for acting well enough to warrant another one.

— Y. C. —

The 1946-47 Rumble Inn membership cards will expire on April 20. The Y. C. membership drive will begin on March 25th, after which date all students will be able to obtain their 47-48 membership cards. Plans are also progressing on a program for 8th grade night. The exact date has not yet been decided, but it will be some time in late March. At 8th grade night, eighth graders will be encouraged to buy their memberships.

Election Notice

Notice is hereby given, that on Tuesday, April 15, 1947, at the Municipal Building, (voting District No. 1) that part of the Village south of the C. & N. W. railroad tracks; and at the Presbyterian church, Dunton ave. at Eastman St. (voting District No. 2) that part of the Village north of the C. & N. W. railroad tracks, in the Village of Arlington Heights, County of Cook and State of Illinois, an Election will be held for:

3 Members of Village Board of Trustees (to fill vacancy, 2-Yr. Term).

1 Police Magistrate (4-Yr. Term).

2 Members of Public Library Board (6-Yr. Terms).

1 Member of Public Library Board (to fill vacancy, 2-Yr. Term).

The polls of said Election will be opened at Six o'clock in the morning, and will close at Five o'clock in the evening of that day.

Dated at Arlington Heights, this 26th day of February, in the year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Seven.

FORREST F. DAVIS,
Village Clerk.

The membership cards will be $1.00.

— Y. C. —

Carla Bloecker is considered to be one of the top ping-pong players at the Y. C. Taylor Lewis really seems to know his way around the dance floor. Tony Morretti and Pat Meehan didn't seem to be any the worse for wear as they relaxed at Rumble Inn after wrestling to a draw in one of the feature half time matches at the Lake Forest game last Friday. The Youth Center invites the visiting students at all home games to Rumble Inn with no admission charge.

— Y. C. —

On Wednesday, Feb. 19, the officers of Rumble Inn decided on a plan to increase the efficiency of the Y. C. clean-up committee. Barbara Tichy, secretary, heads the committee which selects the members of the clean-up committee, one week from the Freshman class, the next week from the Sophomores, etc. Barbara Tichy deserves a great deal of credit for her fine work on this committee.

— Y. C. —

This week's White Orchid tribute goes to Louis and Barbara Page who are ardent and energetic supporters of all Y. C. activities. Barbara is a junior at Arlington and Lou is a senior. They are outstanding both at school and in the community. Barbara and Lou work at the Coke bar and on the clean up committee, two of the most important jobs at Rumble Inn. So, Barbara and Lou this is to thank you on behalf of the kids at Rumble Inn.

— Y. C. —

Some talk about our generation. Some hold no hope for it at all. They say restraint is on vacation. They think our lives are all a brawl. They observe with vocal consternation. That youth must be full of sin. Yet its sure they'd change this observation. Could they see youth at play at Rumble Inn.

News of VFW Post 981

The regular meeting of the Arlington Heights VFW Post 981 will be held this Friday evening at the village hall, starting at 8:30 p. m. As an election of officers is soon to take place all members are urged to attend.

A special meeting will be held March 5, at 8 p. m., in the firemen's room at the village hall.

Krause one of half a million visitors at New Orleans Mardi Gras

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krause and their daughter, Delores, returned home Tuesday from a trip to New Orleans where they were part of the half a million crowd of visitors at the Mardi Gras. Walter says it was the biggest celebration of its kind ever held in that southern city. They also had the opportunity to board and inspect the S. S. Sipan, the airplane carrier. He was surprised at the size of the ship on the decks of which fifty planes can be stored.

The Krauses made the trip on a personally conducted tour sponsored by the Illinois Central R. R. and they lived in the R. R. sleepers which were parked for that purpose.

Polio victim, formerly of Prospect Heights, leaves hospital

Miss Pearl Miller, stricken with polio while attending college last November, returned to her parents' home in Itasca Wednesday.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, formerly of Prospect Heights, she graduated from Arlington Heights township high school two years ago and was attending Frances Shimer college at Mt. Carol, Ill., when attacked by polio.

She has been undergoing treatment at the St. Francis hospital, Evanston, and will continue to receive a doctor's care at her home.

High school art classes offer opportunities

by BETTY PRICE

Nearly 100 students of Arlington Heights township high school are enrolled in four art classes under the direction of Miss Jane Ingles, recently graduated from the University of Illinois. The purpose of the course is not only to develop artistic skills but also to develop an appreciation of many kinds of art through a better understanding.

Tempra, charcoal, drawing pencil, clay and pastels and linoleum block have been their mediums.

The students have studied the basic principles of design, color and form and have made practical use of their knowledge through various projects. The first project was one in which they carved scenes in linoleum block, put oil paint on them with a roller, and then printed them on paper for Christmas cards. Autumn and the Christmas season provided interesting scenes for large color paintings and pastels on manila paper. They drew animals from stuffed specimens and learned to sketch quickly animals in action when students brought live pets for models.

The pupils themselves have posed for portraits and action sketches. They learned the proportion of the human head to the whole body (7½ heads high) and applied it in their work. Recently three-dimensional form and sculpture have been studied in the medium of clay.

Practical art work has been encouraged. Poster announcements to advertise activities and other functions have been cleverly done by volunteer students. During Book Week the students entered a contest to illustrate a scene from a favorite book and prizes were offered by the school library.

Activities about Arlington Heights

Robert and Linda Lockwood, twin brother and sister, celebrated their seventh birthday Saturday with a party for 15 little guests.

Word has been received that Mrs. Ray Atkinson's mother, Mrs. Whitenack of Marshalltown, Iowa, passed away last week Wednesday. Mrs. Atkinson is a former Arlington resident and now lives in Michigan City, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seigler are now living in their new home on N. Haddon avenue.

Kappa Delta party
A supper party was held Friday evening at the South Park field house, ark Ridge, for the Kappa Delta Alumni of the Northwest Suburban Kappa Delta. Mrs. M. C. Haas was chairman of the committee planning the food and entertainment for the party and she was assisted by Mesdames Stanley Myers and Frank Brown. Those from Arlington Heights were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Haas.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ruppel of 606 E. Park street are on a months vacation in Florida.

Recent visitors of Mrs. H. C. Cleveland were Mrs. Ebert of Beaver Dam, Wis., and Miss Mavis Ebert of Chicago.

Mrs. Dan Schueren entertained her bridge club Wednesday evening at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen S. Baxter and son, Skipper, arrived Friday evening from Indianapolis, Ind. to visit with their parents, the B. G. Baxters and the William Winkheims. Mr. Baxter returned home Sunday and his wife and son will remain for a longer visit.

Triple birthday
A triple birthday party was held at the John Deininger home, 909 S. Walnut st., Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Deininger's and their son, John Jr.'s, birthdays which all came during the same week. About 16 guests were present in honor of the occasion.

Mrs. Herbert Reinshagen, who recently returned from a trip to Minneapolis, Minn., enjoyed a luncheon date with Mrs. Jack Monroe while there. Mrs. Monroe is a former Arlington Heights resident and wishes to be remembered to all her friends.

38 scout leaders attend scoutmasters roundtable

by ARNOLD HATCH

38 Scout leader of Algonquin and Blackhawk Districts of the N. W. Sub. Council were guests of Troop 34 at Scoutmaster Roundtable held February 21st in the "gym" of Emmanuel Lutheran School in Des Plaines.

Stan Huntington, Scout Executive, gave a very interesting and informative talk on Troop committees, their duties and functions. He emphasized the importance of these committee positions as necessary to the successful operation of a troop; Chairman, Parent Contact, Camp Activities, Advancement, Finance, and Chaplain, pointing out how these men can function to the best interest of the troop as a unit.

Bill Kratt, Council member, stated that the success of the troop to a large extent depended on the proper management of its finances by the Finance Committee. The Scout's weekly nickel or dime given into a fund, paid for the registration, badges, first aid supplies and a few other Scout necessities, but isn't nearly enough to cover the major items, hence finance drives are imperative to provide necessary funds to carry on a full Scouting program.

Al Baker, permanent camp commissioner, gave a couple reels of colored movies showing scout activities, cabins and various project areas at Twin Lakes Council Camp in Wisconsin owned by Oshkosh scouts and located about 5 miles north of the newly acquired Funk Lake camp site of N. W. S. Council. This film gave an excellent picture of the Twin Lakes Camp and clearly showed that it will be a wonderful camp for Scouts this summer. Al said the camp will be available to a limited number of N. W. S. C. Scouts this year at $17 per Scout for a 10 day period starting July 3rd.

Fred Collins, Court of Honor Chairman, declared that the next Algonquin Court of Honor will be held 8 p. m. Thursday, March 13, at Emmanuel Lutheran School, Des Plaines. Scouts are asked to strongly urge their parents and friends to attend this ceremony. Rodney Ruth, Cartoonist, will tell some of his adventures on his recent trip to Alaska.

Bill Davis, chairman, announced the next S. M. R. T. will be held March 21st with Troop 25 as hosts and the subject for discussion will be "Boy Scout Requirements."

The meeting adjourned at 10:30 to enjoy excellent refreshments by the host.

Among those present are:

Arlington A. A. Thanks residents for dance support

The Arlington Athletic Association, through a paid advertisement elsewhere in this paper, expresses the club's appreciation for the splendid support local and surrounding residents gave to their effort to provide the community with special entertainment.

A crowd of over 800 people turned out for the big St. Valentine Day dance held two weeks ago in the Recreation Park field house, far surpassing the association's fondest hopes of success.

"This splendid turnout assures the club that Arlington Heights and the immediate vicinity wants this type of entertainment," said Herbert E. Mahum, president of the A. A. A. "Our association will continue to give this community the best there is in recreation and sports."

He promised that the near future held many surprises for this town with tournaments in all branches of sports heading the list. Plans are now under way, he added, for a soap box derby, bike races, tennis, volleyball, archery, badminton, table tennis, softball, baseball, golf, swimming, fencing, wrestling, boxing and track tournaments, to mention a few.

On the entertainment side of the ledger, he continued, plans call for more dances and smokers, carnivals, beauty contests, bridge, pinocle and whist tournaments and pageants. "If we continue to get the support of the residents of 'The Town of Good Neighbors' the club will see to it that there will be something doing in Arlington Heights every day throughout the year," he concluded.

EASY "OVEN MEALS"
SAVE ON TIME . . .
AND FUEL! *

Menu

Baked Stuffed Pork Chops
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Steamed Vegetables
Baked Applesauce

It's no wonder oven dinners are so popular with home-makers these busy days! With a menu like this one, all you need do is slide the entire meal into the oven at the same time . . . you'll have an hour or more free from kitchen cares, and you'll be saving on fuel costs, too!

*SAVE GAS on NEAR ZERO DAYS!

War-born delays in the expansion of the natural gas pipeline make it necessary to temporarily restrict new space heating and industrial uses . . . to protect the supply to homes and essential needs.

Because it takes very little more fuel to cook several foods in an oven than it does to cook one, it's good housekeeping to plan easy-to-prepare oven meals. Use a tightly covered pan when cooking the vegetables (lima beans, small beets, carrots, or onions are delicious when steamed) and try to select foods which cook best at corresponding temperatures.

Cooking with gas is sure cooking. Your oven is insulated to prevent heat from escaping and temperatures are accurately controlled. Use your gas range wisely and economically by planning your meals to conserve both time and fuel.

Irene Hoeft, William Henk are married

The Arlington Heights St. Peter Lutheran church was the scene Saturday of the wedding of Miss Irene Hoeft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hoeft of Arlington Heights, and Mr. Wm. Henk Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henk Sr. of Des Plaines. Reverend L. V. Stephan read the nuptial service.

Miss Betty Hogreve sang "Take Thou My Hand" before the vows were taken, and "Because" after the vows. A. W. Bathje accompanied her at the organ.

Mr. Henk attended the Maine Township high school and served two years in the armed forces. He spent eight months overseas with the 30th infantry division. Now an employee of the Webster company in Chicago. The newlyweds will live with the bride's parents for the present.

Matron of honor for the bride was the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. alter Henk. She wore an aqua taffeta dress, carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations, and had a pink and white carnation headpiece. Mrs. Marvin Henk, sister-in-law of the groom, was bridesmaid and she wore a pale blue dress of ersey and net. She carried flowers identical of the matron of honor's and had the same type headpiece. Both wore pearl earrings, which were gifts of the bride.

Walter Henk was best man for the groom and Marvin Henk served as usher. Both are brothers of the bridegroom. They wore business suits and had boutonnières of white carnations. Seventeen guests enjoyed the wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents. Later in the evening an open house was held for relatives and friends. Out of town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Emil Seegers and family of Maple Park, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Seegers and family of Richardson, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bergman from North Riverside.

Mrs. Henk attended the Arlington Heights high school and is now employed by the Grisby Al-lison Radio company in Arlington Heights.

Mr. Henk attended the Maine Township high school and served two years in the armed forces. He spent eight months overseas with the 30th infantry division. Now an employee of the Webster company in Chicago. The newlyweds will live with the bride's parents for the present.

Lee Atkinsons celebrate golden wedding date

Fifty years ago last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Lee Atkinson of Arlington Heights were married in Marshalltown, Iowa. A family dinner in honor of the occasion was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dasget. Their son, Ray Atkinson, and daughter, Barbara, of Michigan City, Ind., were among the guests.

The Lee Atkinsons have lived in Arlington Heights for the past 15 years, and prior to that lived in Marshalltown, Iowa. Mr. Atkinson was a salesman for the Paper Products company up to the time of his retirement several years ago.

Candelights for Dorothy Becker, Andrew Mesko

In the glow of candlelight at the altar of the St. John's church, Arlington Heights, Miss Dorothy Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Becker of Arlington Hts., became the bride of Andrew Mesko, also of Arlington Heights. The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend W. F. Kamphenkel. The church interior was decorated with candelabra, flowers and palms.

Mrs. Ferdinand Blume sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Miss Becker was given in marriage by her father. She was gown in traditional white, having a satin bodice, styled with lace yoke, high neckline, and long satin sleeves, and a full net skirt ending in a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet was of frezia with three gardenias in the center.

Maid of honor for the bride was Margaret Hahnfeldt, and bridesmaids were Miss Jean Schroeder, Mrs. Walter Heidorn and Mrs. Wilbert Becker. They all wore emerald green velvet gowns, styled with sweetheart necklines, three quarter length sleeves and full skirts. They carried white carnation bouquets and had matching sprays in their hair. Nona Mae Heidorn was flower girl and she wore a white dress, fashioned with satin bodice, net skirt, trimmed with an emerald green sash. She carried white carnations edged in green and had a matching headpiece.

Robert Hardcastle served as the groom's best man and ushers were Herman Becker, Walter Heidorn and Wilbert Becker. They all wore tuxedos and had boutonnières of white carnations, the groom's boutonniere being of frezia. Tommy Vidrick served as ring bearer and he was dressed in tails.

Mrs. Becker chose a peacock blue dress to wear for her daughter's wedding and she had a score of gardenias and frezia.

Following the ceremony a reception for 250 guests was held at Elk Grove Inn where dancing was enjoyed to the music of Wally Hahnfeldt's orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Mesko will make their home with the bride's parents for the present.

Women to learn 'sewing can be fun'

"Sewing Can Be Fun" is the title of the program which will be presented by Mrs. J. W. Eastman at the regular meeting of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club Wednesday, March 5, at the fieldhouse, at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Eastman is American Home chairman of the 7th district of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

In addition to her activities as a district chairman, Mrs. Eastman is an art teacher and gives lessons in painting several days a week at her studio in Irving Park. As another means of expressing her artistic talents, she studied sewing under Mrs. Avery, well known dressmaker of Chicago. After she had completed the course in sewing, she continued her association with Mrs. Avery as an assistant teacher for a year.

In her talk before the Women's Club, Mrs. Eastman will demonstrate the construction and placing of shoulder pads, making professional looking button holes and other tailored finishes. She will give suggestions for proper fitting of garments which will change them from a homemade product to a well-tailored costume.

Catholic Woman's Guild plan card party

The February meeting of the St. James Catholic Woman's Guild of Arlington Heights was held Tuesday evening. Plans for the Easter Monday card party were discussed.

A beautiful hand made lace table cloth, donated by Mrs. Mike Doyle; a lovely crystal rosary, donated by Mrs. John Roth; and a sheet and a pair of pillow cases, donated by the Towel Circle, will be given away at the party.

The Guild decided on a new method of handling the many free door prizes. They hope to obtain a door prize for each table and recognition of the donor will be made. Anyone wishing to donate a door prize should call Mrs. John Kindler at Arlington Heights 55-J.

Tickets for this party are fifty cents and may be obtained at the door or from any member of the Guild. There will also be a table prize for each table and refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Edward Amann is chairman of this affair and Mrs. Harry Obrest is co-chairman. Mrs. Amann announced the following persons as chairmen for the various committees: refreshment, Mrs. John Muran and Mrs. Pat McDonald; rosary and sheet raffle, Mrs. Louis Runde and Mrs. Michael Scussel; tickets and tablecloth raffle, Mrs. Wilfred Donles and Mrs. Louis Schneider; door prizes, Mrs. John Kindler; and hostesses, Mesdames Ed Weidner, Jack Clark, Andrew Horcher, John Roth, Leo Schwarz and Phil Brehm.

Father Stier gave an interesting discourse following the business meeting on the reasons for reparations during Lent. He pointed out that any form of self denial was worth while, but he especially recommended refraining from uncharitable talk. Since this is the Lenten season there was no entertainment and no refreshments were served following the meeting. Members of the Guild will receive communion in a body at the seven o'clock mass March 2.

Average Man

The average man in the United States is 5 feet 8½ inches tall and weighs 152 pounds, while the average woman is 5 feet 3½ inches tall and weighs 133 pounds.

Legion Auxiliary notes

Mrs. Martha Bentz and Mrs. Emma McNeely will be co-hostesses to Merle Guild Unit of American Legion Auxiliary at its social meeting to be held Tuesday, March 4. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Bentz, 46 S. Mitchell, from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

The hostesses will serve a hot luncheon and the ladies are asked to come prepared to sew.

The firm that sold the Singer sewing machine to the Auxiliary has offered to give $125 to the winner should he or she prefer money to the machine. For a donation of 25 cents three chances to win can be had from any member of the Auxiliary.

Lenten services at St. Peter church

Next Sunday morning the Rev. L. V. Stephan, pastor at St. Peter Lutheran congregation, Arlington Heights, will deliver the second in a series of Sunday morning Lenten sermons. The series is entitled "The Lamb of God" and the topic for next Sunday is "The Lamb of God, Our Heaven-Sent Redeemer." All sermons of this series will be based on texts selected from the Book of Revelation. Services begin at 11 a. m.

Next Wednesday evening the pastor will deliver the third in a series of Wednesday evening Lenten sermons. Based on the general theme "When Christ Went to Calvary" the sermon for this mid week service will bear the topic "A Ransom Acquires Salvation." Services begin at 8 p. m. and the public is cordially invited.

Baptized Sunday

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dobbins of Arlington Heights was baptized Ellyn Faye Sunday afternoon in their home. Rev. Milo Vondracek was in charge of the baptism and sponsors for the baby were Leonard Arnold and Madeline Dobbins.

A buffet supper was served to 30 guests following the baptism.

Lutheran Mission holds service in field house

Community Camera

The newly organized Lutheran Mission of the English District, Missouri Synod, held its first service in the fieldhouse last Sunday, February 23, with an attendance of 210. The beautiful and inspiring service was led by Arthur A. Yoss, pastor of Ascension Lutheran church at Riverside, Ill. The Rev. Mr. Yoss is the Chicago field representative of the English District Mission Board and also survey director of the Chicago Lutheran Church Extension Association. He urged everyone in attendance to practice the centennial anniversary motto of the Missouri, "Each One Reach One."

The altar, which was placed at the west end of the auditorium, was beautifully appointed with red velvet cloth, candles, and Christian cross. Floral decorations were placed by the Frank Bublitz family in memory of Franklin who made the supreme sacrifice for his country just three years ago.

Mrs. Ed. Sander accompanied the congregation at the piano and Miss Ruth Studtmann sang "Beautiful Savior" during the service.

The public is invited to attend services at the fieldhouse on succeeding Sundays at 10:45 a. m. Sunday school classes will be conducted at 9:30 a. m.

The Rev. Gerhardt Leverenz will be in charge of services for the next few Sundays. He was formerly a U. S. army chaplain and is a veteran of 80 days service on the immediate battle front of the European theater.

DAR session honors Washington birthday

The birthday anniversary of George Washington was commemorated by members of Eli Skinner chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, with a one o'clock buffet luncheon Saturday, February 22, in the home of one of the charter members, Mrs. B. T. Best, 412 N. Dunton. Members of the board of management assisted Mrs. Best. Candelabra with slender red, white and blue tapers graced the dining room table where the chapter Regent, Mrs. Kenneth Gregory and the Vice Regent, Mrs. M. W. Grigsby, poured tea and coffee.

The afternoon program included a tribute to Washington, read by Mrs. Milton Daniels, and a talk by Dr. Best on the early years of Arlington Heights, several generations before the era of atom bombs and night clubs. Dr. Best is known as a well-informed historian, and his talk was replete with vivid descriptions, some of which he remembered from childhood days spent in the village, and others he had heard related by his parents and grandparents. He has verified many things by delving into old records and compiling complete data on these matters.

The first pioneer families to settle here were said to be from Vermont, and Dr. Best added that they considered themselves very fortunate to be able to fill the rich prairie soil of Illinois, after trying to plow the discouragingly rocky acres of New England. He described the family life and social activities of those days, and paid tribute to the steadfastness of purpose and high moral standards of the pioneer men and women. The one unifying objective of those early times was the idea of family self-sufficiency, coupled with willingness to respond to the need of a neighboring household. The speaker told of the constructive cultural interests provided by the Chautauqua programs of those years. Numerous amusing incidents were related with refreshing wit by Dr. Best.

After Dr. Best's talk, chapter members displayed family keepsakes and gave brief descriptions of them. Bits of jewelry, old letters, daguerotypes, and treasured needlework were shown. One thing that attracted comment was the scrap book taken by Mrs. Mark Cleaver, and containing original signatures of men prominent in national affairs during Colonial and Civil War times.

Several members, including the hostess, were dressed in costumes of many years ago. Twenty-two were present.

Mrs. Guy Bloomsenshine was introduced as a new member whose lineage chart had been approved in Washington. Two members transferred from Park Ridge are Mrs. William North and Mrs. H. Lommen. Papers pending in Washington include those of Mrs. Robert Seaburg and Mrs. H. Lussow, as well as others announced previously.

The next regular meeting will be the evening of March 6 in the home of Mrs. J. A. Zimmerman.

St. John's church to have guest speaker

March 6, at 1:30 p. m. Rev. George Nishimoto will be the guest speaker at the St. John's church in Arlington Heights. The public is invited to attend.

Rev. Nishimoto was a Sunday school teacher of the First E. & R. church of San Francisco. He was evacuated with other members of the church to Tafford where he took part in the leadership of the younger group. During that experience he decided to study for the Christian ministry.

During his second year at Eden Theological Seminary he came to Topaz as a student summer worker. After his graduation and ordination in Webster Grove's Evangelical and Reformed church of Missouri, he returned to continue his leadership of the Topaz Nisei in the Christian way of life.

Rev. Nishimoto is now representing the board in a resettlement program in cooperation with the Chicago Federation of Churches.

Bronc frosh tie for trophy; Pirates win before sell out

Palatine and Barrington split the final doubleheader of the Northwest conference season at Palatine Saturday night. The Palatine varsity surprised by winning 36-31 for their second of the season over second place Barrington. The victory moved Palatine to a tie for third place with Bensenville. The Barrington frosh-sophs won 41-31 for their 13th victory in 14 starts which gave them a tie for the league championship.

The largest crowd of the season numbering about 800 watched a pair of very close ball games. About 200 spectators were turned away due to lack of even standing room.

Pirates keep ball last three minutes

Walter Kocher, conference leading scorer, hit a long shot in the first five seconds of play but Palatine tied it up with free throws and the lead see-sawed all the first half with Palatine on top 18-16 at the intermission. Barrington pulled ahead just as the third period ended and at one time early in the final quarter held a 31-26 lead. From that point Barrington failed to score. Kocher and Pepper went out on fouls for Palatine at the start of the last quarter but the Pirates soon after tied the score. Their Steinbrink shot a 20 footer to put Palatine two points ahead. Zoelick sank a free throw and Birkis got his only basket of the game for a five point lead. Palatine stalled all the last three minutes, declining six free throws during that period.

The game was a parade to the free throw lines as a total of 53 fouls were called on the two teams. This was necessary to keep the game under control and there were no gripes from either crowd or personals.

As goes Kocher so goes Barrington

The failure of Kocher to hit his customary quota of long shots for Barrington caused the whole team to slump in the second half. Kocher hit just two out of 18 tries from the field and both were in the first half. He finished with seven points, his poorest night of the season. In the first Palatine game which the Pirates also won 39-32 Kocher scored eight points. On offense Pomeroy, a sub, looked best for Barrington. Playing only part time he scored seven points.

Dick Kolze's unerring eye on free throws helped him score 15 points to lead all scorers by a wide margin. Kolze who hit 83 out of 121 in the 14 conference games made nine out of 11 free throws. Palatine scored half their points at the free throw line. Gustafson and Zoelick were others who looked good for the Pirates.

Barrington frosh-sophs trail three quarters

Barrington's conference champ frosh-sophs found themselves trailing 21-20 going into the final quarter on a very evenly played preliminary game. With a victory necessary to tie for the championship it was Schuett a small freshman forward, who sparked the team with three good shots in row to make the game a runaway in the last seven minutes. Hansen and Helvogt each scored five points also in the big last quarter in which Barrington tallied 21 points. The title was the third in a row for Barrington's junior team.

Schuett scored ten points, Hicks nine, Hansen and Wolthausen eight, and Helvogt six for Barrington's Ponies. Frank Orzolek of Palatine topped all scorers for the evening with 17 points. Kendzie, a freshman, counted seven points.

Crystal Lake whips Belvidere, 85-71

Crystal Lake and Belvidere set what may be a new record for total points scored in a single game among teams of this area. Saturday night Crystal Lake beat Belvidere 85-71 in a fast scoring game in which five players made 18 or more points. Bob Nelson of Crystal Lake returned to form to score 26 points while his teammate, lanky Dor Holt, poured in 22. Scully, Laker guard, scored 18. Bender of Belvidere made 21 while I. Johannes scored 19. Crystal Lake led 39-28 at the half but had only a two point margin of 56-54 at the three quarter mark. In the last quarter Crystal Lake hit a very fast pace to tally 29 points to Belvidere's 17. Crystal Lake (55) Belvidere (37)

Realtors win two more from Crystal Lake

With big Bob Howes leading the way, the LaLonde Realtors smashed out a 62-38 win over the American Legion team of Crystal Lake last Thursday night for their 17th straight win. The reserves had a hard time with Pine Moor team in the preliminary contest and finally succumbed to the other Crystal Lake representative, 34-33.

Howes started the evening's scoring in the feature contest with a one hander from the side which Timm quickly nullified to knot the score at 2-2. From here to the end of the first quarter Howes, Hollinger, Holdebrandt, and Millay traded baskets with the American Legion team, to keep the score knotted at the end of the first segment at 14-14 apiece.

The second quarter saw the Realtors pull away from the American Legion team as Howes hit for 3 buckets, Holdebrandt 2, Stinson 2 buckets and a charity toss, and Millay and Snyder 1 each. Crystal Lake spread their baskets among all five of the starting lineup to give the Realtors a halftime advantage of 33-26.

The ex-Pirates turned the game into a rout in the second half as Stinson turned on the offense with 5 straight baskets, while the American Legion team had a hard time negotiating the basket for 12 points for the final tally of 62-38.

The reserves ran into some trouble right from the start and trailed throughout the contest. Inability to hit easy shots cost the reserves the game, although they found the range in the final 4 minutes and closed up an 11 point gap, but the Pine Moor team stayed off the late attack and the junior team lost 34-33.

Boxing match added feature at Arlington basketball game

Basketball fans who attended the Lake Forest-Arlington game at Arlington Heights high school gym last Friday witnessed for the first time between halves a boxing match between two high school boys, both 147 pounders. The contestants were Norman Busse and Willis Gillispie. C. R. Larsen of the athletic department acted as referee.

Increasing interest is being shown by neighboring schools in boxing. Henry Nichols of Merle Guild Post, American Legion, who is handling the boxing instructions every Wednesday and Friday nights at the Presbyterian church gym expects to have his boys in condition to meet Highland Park boys club some time in April. He is arranging an invitational tournament for May. At an expense of approximately $500, a portable ring is being constructed.

Nichols says, "boxing is being recognized as not only a manly sport but a means for boys to work off some of that surplus energy which they have stored up within themselves. No boy is allowed to participate without first being examined by a physician and can not compete in any exhibition without the consent of his parents. Boys from neighboring towns who want to visit us on either of the training nights are welcomed."

Crucial game this Sunday for Stags

Bent on an intensive drive to lead the western sector of the Basketball Association of America, the Chicago Stags have two important tilts on tap for the next week. On Wednesday night, February 26th, at Detroit the Chicagoans played the Detroit Falcons, and next Sunday afternoon in the Chicago Stadium, they tackle the section leaders — St. Louis Bombers.

The Stag's meeting against the Detroiters is their sixth and final clash between the two teams, with the Detroit squad, one game up on them. It was the defeat handed them by Detroit in the Chicago Stadium last Thursday night, along a set-back by the Bombers the following night that put them back into second place. Now they are to face these teams again in an effort to reach the top spot.

Next Sunday's game with St. Louis will also be the final game of a six series between the two squads. To date the Bombers have won four of the five games by scores of: 75-72; 103-90; 84-81, and 65-60.

The Advance dope on Sunday's tilt shows the Bombers strength, and the advantage they hold over the Chicago team, so Coach Harold Olsen intends to keep his warriors in strict training, preparing for the St. Louis game.

Combating Ants
For nests of ants in the soil in the lawn or garden, make holes about a foot apart over the infested area with a broom handle, or similar object, to a depth of two to four inches and pour into each two or three tablespoonfuls of carbon disulphide, closing the hole at the surface by pushing the soil together. In the case of large ant hills, it may be necessary to make deeper holes and pour into them a larger quantity of carbon disulphide.

Asks $11,000 damages from Palatine farmer

Suit for $11,000 damages against Frank Bauer, 73 years old, a farmer living on Palatine road, Palatine, for injuries to five persons in one automobile accident, was filed in Circuit court last week by George P. Krickl, 38, of West McHenry, Ill., a laborer. The suit asks $5,000 for Krickl, $2,000 each for his wife, Elizabeth and son Robert, 11, and $1,000 each for two other children, George 5, and Barbara Ann, 4, for injuries suffered Sept. 1, 1945, in a collision at Palatine road and Rand road. Bauer is charged with speeding and failure to yield the right of way to a vehicle approaching from the right. According to Attorney William Parker Ward, who filed the suit, Bauer was driving a 1924 Model T Ford, approaching the Krickl family riding in a 1937 Lafayette in opposite directions on Rand road, when he made a left turn into Palatine road in front of them.

Train Business Employees
The George-Barden act, passed by congress, provides $2,500,000 for the training of workers in the distributive occupations such as wholesale merchandising and selling.

Twelve seniors bow out as Cards beat Niles

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Led by Bill Kleiner's 20 points, the Arlington varsity basketball team climaxed its home cage season with an impressive 60-34 win over a hot-shooting Niles quintet in a non-conference tilt last Saturday night. This was the last game on the home floor for 12 of the 14 varsity players. Only Vic Heimsoth, a junior, and Bill Robinson, a sophomore, will be back on Arlington's court next year; however, both are regulars on this year's squad and will have plenty of experience for next season.

This was the second time that these two teams had clashed this season and in both contests the Cards came out on top. Heights formerly whipped the Trojans January 24 by a 63-47 count.

The first quarter was a nip and tuck battle, with Niles drawing the first blood and then building a fast 6-0 lead, but Arlington finally got going and when the buzzer sounded ending the first period the Cards were behind by only 1 point, 14-13. Williams, tall Trojans center, poured in 7 of Niles' 14 tallies. Bill Kleiner also had 7 to head Arlington, while Al Stroker flipped in 4 free throws.

The next period was also a see-saw battle but Heights had the best of it as it outpointed the Trojans by 1 point, 8-7, and left the floor at intermission time with a 21-21 tie. Stroker connected for 4 points to pace the Cards in this quarter, while Fisher also made 4 to lead Niles.

In the third quarter, with Arlington's defense tightened up and its offense rolling, the Cards had their best quarter by amassing 20 points and stopping Niles with 6 to run the count to 41-27. Kleiner once again spearheaded the Arlington attack with 7 points and was followed by Stroker who tallied 5.

Coach Clarence Iba's charges were just as hot in the final segment as they ran up 19 more points to the Trojans' 7. Kleiner and Stroker again led Heights with 6 and 5 points respectively, while Bob Creamer hit 4 free throws and Willard Hogreve a basket. This last half spurt gave Arlington an easy 60-34 victory.

Bill Kleiner had high scoring honors for the night with 20 points, while Stroker was close behind with 18. The Cards travel to Libertyville Friday night, where it meets the Wildcats in an extra game before going to the District tournament at Woodstock.

Jay-Vees victorious

The Arlington Junior varsity came back from Friday's defeat to win over the Niles Jay Vee squad in the home-floor climaxer by a 32-24 count. Heights, which started a substitute lineup, fell behind at the end of the first quarter 8-4, but Coach Grace's regulars got clicking in the next quarter and outscored the Trojan 10-4 to take the lead at half time, 14-12.

The third period was also Arlington's as it outscored Niles by the same margin 10-4 and so led 25-16 going into the final period.

The final was evenly played with both teams tallying 8 points but the Cards coming out on the top end of a 32-24 score. John Shanuey of Arlington tallied 15 points to lead the scoring in the game.

The J-V record now stands at 12-7, with their final coming up Friday night at Libertyville.

Chicago Cubs plan amateur training

The Chicago Cubs will hold their 1947 summer training camp from July 7 through August 29 in Peru, Illinois, it was announced today by Jack Sheehan, director of the Cubs' farm system. Arrangements were completed for use of the municipal ball field in Peru, which is owned by the city's recreation department.

The training camp, previously conducted at Wrigley Field, Chicago, was switched to Peru because of the availability of the field for daily workouts during the training season.

High school graduates who want to play in organized baseball will receive tryouts at the Peru camp upon writing to Jack Sheehan, Wrigley Field, Chicago, 13, who will assign reporting dates. Only boys who have been graduated from high school are eligible for the training camp, Sheehan emphasized.

Hunters to work with farmers in providing more game and fish

The Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs is distributing a little mimeographed booklet at the sports shows entitled, "Everybody Likes to Hunt and Fish—but—". The way this title reads, any sportsman is supposed to supply his own answer to the remainder of this sentence. In listening to the comments around the Federation's booth at the St. Louis Sports Show, it appeared that most sportsmen would wind up the sentence by saying that everybody likes to hunt and fish—but every year there is getting to be less game to shoot—less fish to catch.

The Federation, however, is optimistic in its suggestion that something can be done by Illinois sportsmen to provide a continuous supply of fish and game for the ever growing army of hunters and fishermen.

The first suggestion is that the sportsmen join a sportsmen's club and, by concerted action with his fellow hunters and fishermen, plan and develop a constructive program in his own bailiwick.

The second suggestion is that he plant some permanent cover. This suggestion is made with the idea of getting the hunter to work with the farmers on whose land he hunts in improving hunting conditions and at the same time give the farmer some benefits. Asiatic Rose is listed as one plant which will provide better hunting and will also give the farmer a cheap stock-proof fence and help him to keep down the over supply of bugs by furnishing nesting areas for bug eating birds.

Stress is laid on the fact that an Asiatic Rose hedge could well be utilized to take the place of the old Osage Orange hedges now practically extinct. The Asiatic Rose hedge is cheap and does not have many of the objectionable qualities found in the Osage Orange hedge. It doesn't have to be trimmed—it doesn't spread into the adjoining fields—it is permanent—it makes a good stock fence and adds to the appearance of any farm.

Another suggestion for progressive sportsmen is that they visit the farm in the Spring during the nesting season, locate pheasant and quail nests and drive a stake marking the nest so that the farmer can avoid destroying it with his mower. Thousands of nests are destroyed every year by farmers who overrun them in mowing their hay fields. Most farmers do not want to destroy these nests but cannot take the time to locate them and mark them. This, says the Federation's bulletin, is the job for the real sportsmen.

Another job is to build nesting boxes for the wood duck, squirrel, raccoon, and opossum. One of the reasons for the continuing shortage of these birds and animals is the lack of hollow trees which they ordinarily use for nesting purposes. The Illinois Natural History Survey has demonstrated over a period of years that artificial nesting boxes will serve a very constructive purpose. They are easy to make and will serve for several generations of game.

First Storm Signal

First storm signal flown in the United States was at Oswego, N. Y., in October, 1871, from a meteorological tower built by the army signal corps. Congress authorized a system of stations for "signaling the approach and force of storms" in 1870 and the signal corps established a national weather reporting service in the following year.

SOPHIE WINKELMANN

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother who passed away one year ago, February 24, 1946.

To your grave we often wander
Flowers we place with tender care

And we feel your presence near.
Long days, long nights you bore the pain

Waiting for a cure, but all in vain
God saw that you were suffering

And that the hills were hard to climb

So He closed your weary eyes and whispered

Peace be thine.

Loving Husband and Children.

IN MEMORIAM

OTTO MIRS, Feb. 25, 1946

The dearest dad the world could hold.

A cherished smile and a heart of gold;

Those who knew him all will know,

How much we lost one year ago.

Loving son and daughter-in-law, Orville and Adelaide.

OBITUARIES

Rose M. Kummer

Last rites for Rose M. Kummer, nee Alonge, 1330 Washington st., Des Plaines, were held Wednesday from the Des Plaines Lutheran and Oehler chapel to St. Mary's church. Father Vincent Lavery was in charge of the solemn Requiem Mass. Interment was in All Saint's cemetery.

Mrs. Kummer was born April 26, 1914, and passed away February 23. While living she was an active member of the Altar of Rosary Society of St. Mary's church.

She is survived by her husband, Raymond; two children, Donna Rae and Thomas; her mother, Mrs. Angeline Alonge; three brothers, Michael Alonge of Riverside, and John and Sam Alonge of Des Plaines; two sisters, Francis Darmstadt and Angeline Alonge.

Frank Keiser

Funeral services were held Saturday from the Arlington Heights Lutheran and Oehler chapel for Frank Keiser of Arlington Heights. Rev. W. F. Kampfenkel officiated and Blair Lodge No. 393 was in charge of the service. Interment was in Ridgewood cemetery.

Mr. Keiser was born November 16, 1870 in Chicago. He was married April 20, 1897 to Emma Weber who preceded him in death in 1939. He retired as a plumbing contractor 18 years ago and has lived in Arlington Heights since that time, passing away February 19.

The deceased is survived by his daughter, Elsie Keiser, and a brother, Charles.

Robert Cardwell

Funeral services for Robert Cardwell, 1750 Ash st., Des Plaines, will be held Friday from the Des Plaines Lutheran and Oehler chapel, at 2 p. m. Rev. Theodore Potter will be in charge of services and interment will be in Fairmount cemetery.

The deceased was born April 3, 1861, and passed away suddenly February 23 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Priscilla Roberts, where he was making his home. He is survived by his wife, Mary; two daughters, Mrs. C. J. Pope of Aurora and Mrs. Priscilla Roberts of Des Plaines, a brother, Alexander of Ireland, and a sister, Mary Cahill of Chicago.

Frederick Reher

Frederick Christian Reher was born November 15, 1869, in Walstaedt, Holstein, and was baptized in Segeberg, Germany. At the age of 12 he came with his folks to this country, settling in the fast growing metropolis, Chicago. He was confirmed in the Jefferson Park Lutheran church.

After his confirmation he worked as a machinist until the year 1898, when on August 4th he was married to Miss Bertha Bestmann. The young couple settled on a farm in the vicinity of Belmont and Central ave., Chicago. This farm was subdivided in 1913. From there Mr. Reher and his family moved to a farm near Bensenville.

He and Mrs. Reher retired from farming eight years ago, when they moved to their present home on York Road. Four months ago he had a stroke. Last Thursday morning, February 20, Mr. Reher died at the age of 77 years, 3 months and 5 days.

Mr. Reher leaves to mourn his departure his wife, Bertha, three sons and six daughters: John, Mrs. Catherine Gray, Elsie, Mrs. Dorothy Grobe, Ernst, Mrs. Anna Korthauer, Mrs. Rose Johnson, Frederick, Jr. and Mrs. Bertha Cowan. Four sons-in-law, three daughters-in-law, fourteen grandchildren; one brother, Herman Reher, and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 p. m. at St. John's Evangelical church, Addison, Rev. E. Bergstraesser officiating. Interment St. John's cemetery.

Mrs. Wm. Langhorst

Funeral services will be held Saturday, March 1, at 2 o'clock at the Palatine Lutheran church for Mrs. Wm. Langhorst, who spent practically all of her life in Palatine. She had sustained three strokes previously, but her death came quietly Tuesday as she was sitting in her chair at the home of her son, Fred, 25 Washington st., Palatine.

Sophie Linneman was born in Elk Grove January 19, 1863. Upon her marriage to Wm. Langhorst in 1885, they came to Palatine, residing for many years on the Langhorst homestead south of the village. Mr. Langhorst died January 24, 1945.

There remain four sons, Henry, William, Fred and Arthur; three daughters, Mrs. Wm. Hayward, Florida; Mrs. Wm. Garms, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Clarence Schmoldt, Roselle; one sister, Mrs. Bertha Kreft, Ames, Iowa; five brothers, John, Herman, Fred, Martin, Palatine and Edward, Arlington Heights. There are nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Ernestine Boller

Funeral services for Ernestine Greshner Boller of Jefferson Park will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 from May's Funeral Home, 4559 Milwaukee ave. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery at Belmont and Harlem aves.

Mrs. Boller was born March 9, 1925, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Greshner of Jefferson Park. She is survived by her husband, Raymond, her infant daughter, born last week, her parents, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Greshner, Sr. of Arlington Heights, her uncle, Sylvester Greshner of Arlington Heights and her aunts, Valerie Loska, Irene Greshner, and Gussie Silva.

Caroline Raupp

Mrs. Caroline Raupp of Prairie View was laid to rest Monday. Services were held at 10 a. m. from the St. Mary's church, Buffalo Grove, and interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, Buffalo Grove.

Mrs. Raupp, nee Wagner, was born October 28, 1887 at Fremont Center, Illinois. She was married April 16, 1912 to Alois Raupp. She passed away February 20, after a lingering illness.

Those left to mourn Mrs. Raupp's departure are her husband, Alois, and the following children, Lucille Tekampe, Roman, Rose Weidner, Stanley, Norbert, Roger, Verna Geimer, Leon, and Al Jr.

Funeral services are being held Thursday afternoon at Palatine Lutheran church for Harold W. Schwolow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schwolow, So. Brockway street, Palatine. Interment is at Randolph. He died Monday after an acute illness since Christmas.

Deceased leaves his wife, parents and one sister, Vernetta. Mr. Schwolow was employed at the Jewel plant in Barrington and made his home in that village. Harold was born April 24, 1924. He married Miss June Condell June 10, 1944.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Otto Mrs. Sr., our beloved husband, father, and grandfather, who passed away on his birthday one year ago today, February 25, 1946.

Long days, long nights, you bore your pain,
Waiting for a cure but all in vain;

God saw that you were suffering,
And the hills were hard to climb.

So he gently closed your eyes and whispered
"Peace be thine."

These Des Plaines Stores announce NEW BUSINESS HOURS Effective March 1st OPEN MON. UNTIL 9 P.M.

These Des Plaines stores are now conforming to store hours prevalent throughout the Chicago Metropolitan area by adopting Monday as the night to remain open. This uniformity of store hours in the entire area will avoid confusion to customers. It is the desire of these Des Plaines stores to offer their customers the same shopping night that has proven so popular in other communities.

CLOSED THURSDAYS at 6 P.M.

Thursday night opening was inaugurated to allow war workers an additional night for shopping. This practice is now being eliminated

CLOSED SATURDAYS at 6 P.M.

Surveys indicate that customers no longer shop extensively Saturday evenings. These Des Plaines merchants have decided to change from

Saturday evening and offer their customers Monday evening shopping. Closed Saturday evening, March 1st.

Cook County Board actions

Delayed Tax Bills

Probability that Cook County tax bills will be delayed so that the first instalment penalty date will have to be postponed beyond May 1 developed last week when County Clerk Michael J. Lynn announced that figuring of tax rates will not be completed until the first week in March. A shortage of experienced machine operators had delayed the figuring of the 59 per cent assessment rates ordered by the state tax commission under the new Butler laws. A full month ordinarily required for getting out the bills after the rates have been figured and the operator shortage may cause further trouble. The final step is turning over of the books and the bills to the county treasurer who is charged with mailing the bills.

The matter is further complicated by the delay of the Supreme Court in giving a decision of the test suit against Park Ridge to determine the maximum rate of every taxing body in the state except the six major ones of Cook County.

Against Midnight Weddings

Superior Judge Geo. M. Fisher has suggested that a law be passed prohibiting marriage ceremonies, except religious ones, after eight o'clock. He had just annulled a marriage ceremony performed at two o'clock in the morning between a boy of 20 and a girl of 17 who had met a few hours earlier in a tavern.

Issue car licenses

Renewal of motor vehicle registrations and dealers and chauffeurs' licenses is moving forward at an unprecedented pace. Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett reported.

Registrations for 1947 processed up to February 1 included 780,370 passenger cars, 120,512 trucks, 12,614 trailers, 3,100 motorcycles, 3,736 dealers and 78,557 chauffeurs.

In addition to these renewals, Secretary Barrett said that the department during January issued 116,563 certificates of title, 25,675 drivers' licenses and approximately 50,000 other applications.

40,000 volunteers

Plans for intensifying the Army recruiting campaign in this area were announced by Lt. Kenneth W. Schauss, Commanding Officer Elgin-Evanston-Waukegan Recruiting Area, who said that the nation-wide drive is now aimed at the goal of 40,000 volunteers each month.

Lt. Schauss explained that although one million volunteers had joined the Regular Army by last October, nearly half were short-term men who signed up for periods of one year and eighteen months. Their enlistments expire during the coming year and those who leave the Army must be replaced.

In addition, Lt. Schauss pointed out that the standards of the Regular Army are constantly being raised and that men unsuited for further military training or for Army careers are being weeded out. Our new Army of technicians requires quality as well as numbers, he said.

For these reasons, 40,000 volunteers are needed each month if the Army is to be stabilized at 1,970,000 by July 1, 1947, the strength deemed necessary to carry out effectively occupational commitments overseas and to provide for the national defense, Lt. Schauss said.

Here is the easy way to pay income tax

For the thousands of wage earners in this First District of Illinois who plan to fill out their Withholding Statements as their income tax returns, Nigel D. Campbell, Collector of Internal Revenue, today offered the following helpful suggestions:

a. On the back of the form, watch the instructions under Lines 2 and 3 to make sure you are eligible to use this form.

b. Be sure to fill out every line on the back of the form that applies to you.

c. If you had more than one job where tax was withheld last year, you should have a statement from each employer. In that case, fill out only one of the statements, but attach all the other statements to it. Add up your wages and write the total on Line 1.

d. If husband and wife are filing together, do same as in preceding paragraph.

e. If single disregard Line 4. If married, answer the questions in Line 4 very carefully to assure proper exemptions for yourselves.

f. List only dependents in upper right hand spaces (not self and wife).

g. Be sure to sign in the lower right hand space. If husband and wife are filing together, both should sign.

h. Don't make any deductions from your income when you file on this form, the Collector will give you both your exemptions and an automatic allowance equal to about 10 per cent of your income, before figuring the tax. Then, he'll give you credit for the tax which was withheld from your wages, and send you either a bill or a refund for the difference.

i. Make sure your correct address is shown on the front of the form.

j. Mail your return to Collector of Internal Revenue, United States Court House, Chicago 4, Illinois, before March 15.

'Ice-Capades of 1947' opens at Arena Mar. 17

"Ice-Capades of 1947", seventh annual edition of the brilliant ice revue featuring such outstanding favorites as Donna Atwood, Bobby Specht and "The Old Smoothies" duo of Orrin Markhus and Irma Thomas in its huge cast of 176, opens an 18-day engagement at the Chicago Arena on March 17 hailed by theatrical trade papers as the greatest blades extravaganza ever produced.

The Chicago engagement will run through April 3 with nightly performances at 8:15. Two Sunday matinees at 2:15 are scheduled March 23 and 30. Tickets for all performances are now on sale at the Arena box office, or by mail order to the Arena, and also will be procurable at Lytton's in the Loop.

No expense has been spared to make this all-new edition of "Ice-Capades" the terrific presentation it is. The cast of 176 includes many individual show-stoppers, scenery and props that are "out of this world" and much of the half million dollars put into the show was invested in costumes.

Besides the lovely Donna Atwood, inimitable Bobby Specht and idolized "Old Smoothies", "Ice-Capades" boasts the artistry of such other top performers as Phil Taylor, Nate and Edythe Walley, Red McCarthy, Eric Waite, Al Surette, Ann Robinson, Benoit Sisters, Patti Philippi, Esco LaRue, Larry Jackson, Bernice Lyman, Don Condon, Audrey Scott, Alan Konrad, Robert Dench, Rosemarie Stewart, The Hub Trio, Chuckie Stein, Eldon Adair, Frank St. Amant, Hugh Forgie, Stig Larson and numerous others. The gorgeous "Ice-Ca-Pets" of the ensembles, ballets and precision lines are nearly 100 in number. Production numbers are many and topped by the scintillating "Anthony and Cleopatra", without doubt the most magnificent spectacle ever iced. Comedy, as usual, runs rampant throughout "Ice-Capades", and the music department of Jerome Mayhall, as director and orchestra conductor, Eddie Bush, Walter Carl and the Malena Sisters enhances the revue greatly.

For Sale — A City

Do you want to buy an entire town consisting of 604 dwellings, 377 acres of land, a dormitory, schoolhouse, hospital, church, theatre, store buildings, waterworks system, sewer system and electric light system? If you do, contact the War Assets Administration. They have one of their shelf all wrapped up and ready to deliver to the highest bidder. It is located in Utah and is known as Dragerton. It was built by Uncle Sam during the war for the purpose of housing employees of the Geneva mine and cost him more than $5,000,000. He will probably take less for cash. However, the State of Utah is making a vigorous protest and is calling on the President and Congress to cause the proposed sale of this town as a single unit to be withdrawn and permit persons who have less than $5,000,000 available, to purchase lots and homes and stores individually.

Milking Effort

On the basis of actual farmer count, 340 to 350 squeezes are required in hand milking to produce one gallon of milk, according to extension dairy specialists.

Puts focus on 'used' jewelry racket

Don't listen to the blandishments of jewelry dealers who advertise "Now is the time to sell your jewelry," unless you are willing to practically give it away.

Good Housekeeping magazine investigated the second-hand jewelry market from coast to coast and found that one New York City dealer offered $200 for a diamond-sapphire ring which had been appraised at $1,800, according to an article in the February issue of the magazine.

The same dealer offered the grand total of $65 for two pieces of jewelry which had been appraised at $400.

For a circular brooch appraised at $1,500 he offered $140.

Even a large New York City department store offered only $300 for the diamond-sapphire ring appraised at $1,800.

Nor is this situation to be found only in New York City. Similar experiences were reported by the investigator in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Washington, D. C., and Rochester, New York dealers were the frankest, according to the article. They quickly told the prospective seller she would have to go to New York City to get the most for her jewelry.

Valuable information for persons who must sell their jewelry are contained in the article, which states in part:

"Have your jewelry appraised by an expert on its resale value, so that you will know as nearly as possible what you can expect to get. You will be expected to pay a small fee for this appraisal, but it is worth it."

"Be prepared to reject anything that is too far afield."

"Don't let a dealer bully you into believing your stones are flawed or off-color if you know that is not the case."

"Try to look as prosperous as possible when you make the rounds."

"If you want to dispose of valuable jewels in a small community, ask your bank to recommend the jewelry who handles its estate business."

Civil service examinations

Men are needed to fill positions as Auto Mechanics, Chauffeurs and Truck Drivers with the Veterans Administration at Downey, Illinois. Applications must be filed with the Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Veterans Administration, Downey, Illinois, not later than April 16, 1947.

These positions pay salaries ranging from $1,822 to $2,569 a year with additional compensation for any time worked in excess of 40 hours. Appointees will be given probationary appointments, which, after one year of satisfactory service, become permanent. No written test is required. Applicants for Truck Driver and Chauffeur positions must possess or be able to obtain licenses to operate motor vehicles.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Executive Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Veterans Administration, Downey, Illinois; the Office of the Seventh U. S. Civil Service Region, New Post Office Building, Chicago 7; or from any first- or second-class post office.

Insurance Mortgages

Aggregate mortgage investments of life insurance companies at the end of 1945 amounted to $6,635,982,000. This was a decrease of $38,568,000 in the year, although new mortgages financed by the life insurance companies during 1945 totaled over $950,000,000. Of the mortgages owned at the end of 1945, $779,000,000 were farm mortgages, $1,394,000,000 were FHA home mortgages and $4,463,000,000 were other city mortgages, including both housing and business properties.

Average Income

The average income of all Americans (children included) in 1946 is estimated at about $1,179.

Your floors are the most important single item to consider when decorating your house. Fresh paint and fine furnishings are wasted on worn out floors.

Floor finishing is not a dirty job when done by good mechanics. We make old dingy floors as smooth and beautiful as new. It is less expensive per room than other decorating. For an estimate to-day without obligation, Call

Park Ridge to vote on tax increase

Voters of Park Ridge will have an opportunity to decide on whether they wish to increase the maximum tax rate for general corporate purposes of the city at the regular Aldermanic election on April 15.

This was assured Tuesday night when the council voted to submit the question of raising the tax rate from .333% to a maximum of .437% to the voters.

PATENTS GRANTED

The following patents have been issued:

William A. Whittier, Glenview, gypsum compositions capable of setting at elevated temperatures.

Trustees hold off on 1-hour parking; to consult ladies

Members of the Lombard board of trustees last week hesitated on the very brink of passing a new one-hour parking ordinance effective on the main business blocks of the town. Just in time, they bethought of the possible wrath of their wives then hastily set the matter aside for further study by the public protection committee.

Orville Caesar, Barrington, motor vehicle.

Wins $30,000 VFW Skokie home

Saturday evening February 22, 1947, before a crowd of nearly 3,000 people, a public drawing was held at the Merry Garden Ballroom, Sheffield and Belmont Avenues, Chicago, to determine the winner of the $30,000 modern home at Karlov and Grove Avenues, Skokie, sponsored by Skokie Valley Post no. 3854, Veterans of Foreign Wars of U. S. The drawing was presided over by State Commander, Norman B. Allyn, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, assisted by Jr. Vice Commander, Henry L. Warner and a number of State and County Veterans Officials.

The winning ticket no. B-11357, was held by Carl Pasurka, of 6247 Henderson Street, Chicago. Carl Pasurka is a G. I. who served in the Anti-aircraft Artillery on Bataan and Corregidor and was a Jap prisoner for three and one half years, interned in Japan. The winning ticket was sold to him by his cousin, Comrade Alfred F. Schwake a member of Skokie Valley Post no. 3354, V.F.W.

There were also ten secondary prizes in the form of $100.00 Government Bonds, won by other people none from this area.

According to Chairman Walter Wuerth, of the V.F.W. Home of the Year Committee of Skokie Valley Post no. 3854, who so successfully brought the contest through the past months, proceeds or net earnings realized are to be used in the erection of a modern community center in Skokie that will be a memorial to those who served our Country with distinction and great sacrifice.

New industries

During 1946 a total of 176 new industries made arrangements to locate in northern Illinois, according to a yearly summary of industrial activity by the territorial information department of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois.

Ninety-two were new plants, 81 were branches of existing companies and three moved into the area from other parts of the nation. The 1946 total of 176 compares with 118 new industries in 1945.

It is estimated by the department that the new plants established in 1946 will eventually employ 34,000 people and have a total yearly payroll approaching 100 million dollars.

In addition to the entirely new industrial activity, an additional 72 firms moved from old to new locations within the area, which in most cases involved expansion and additional employment and production.

SUES VILLAGE

In Circuit court, the First National Bank of Skokie, has sued Roland Dilg, treasurer of the village of Morton Grove, and other officials to force payment of a $4,000 3% 1943 anticipation warrant which is unpaid. Taxes have been collected but only $500 of the principal has been paid.

Skokie has plenty room for expansion

Skokie, with 60,000 feet zoned for business usage under the year-old zoning ordinance, has around 10,000 lin. ft. of its area is use. Evanston, which is developed to a greater extent, has about 50,000 lin. ft. zoned for business.

These figures on business footage were presented Skokie Chamber of Commerce members by Armond D. King last week when he addressed the Chamber body. Some 500,000 feet were originally designated for business usage, which, as Mr. King explained, would allow for no main business section, but would have scattered stores here and there. He used the Evanston business zoning figures to point out that more than ample area had been allowed for Skokie.

Twenty-five per cent, or 1450 acres, of Skokie's 6500 acres is taken up by streets, and alleys. Today there are about 500 acres of developed property, not counting streets, alleys, parks or schools. This means that less than 10 per cent of Skokie's area is developed at present, affording great expansion possibilities.

MRS. BERTHA BOGDANSKI

BANKRUPT

The Federal Electric Co. and other creditors have filed a petition in the United States Circuit court to have the Mayfair Food Products Co. of Arlington Heights adjudged bankrupt. They list $14,300 of claims.

Cave-in kills ditch digger at Barrington

Vincenzo Cocco, 44-year-old Chicagoan employed as a pipe-layer on the Summit-Hillside sewer project, Barrington, was suffocated about 4:15 o'clock Monday afternoon of last week when a section of the sewer ditch caved in on him. He was pronounced dead when fellow-workers and members of the Barrington fire department dug him out approximately a half-hour later.

Cocco was a member of a crew employed by Pietro Scalzitti and company, Chicago contractors. He was laying pipe in a 15-foot ditch at the rear of 722 Division street, when a section of clay about three by four and one-half feet fell on him from the side of the ditch.

SUE FOR INJURIES

Richard and Arthur Gieseke, Catherine and Jacqueline Lannent have sued Floyd Mullikin in the Circuit court for damages for injuries sustained in an automobile accident. On July 28 it is charged he was driving his car west on Dundee road at Rand road and collided with the Gieseke car which was on Rand road. Each of the four plaintiffs ask $5,000 damages.

Glenview Walther League to sponsor 'King of Kings' show

The Walther League Youth Society of the Immanuel Lutheran church, West Lake ave., Glenview, is contributing to the large number of Lenten religious features in metropolitan Chicago by sponsoring a sacred program on Sunday evening, March 9, 7:30 p. m., at which time the film "King of Kings" will be shown. "King of Kings" is a sound film which recreates the life and death of Christ, and is well-known throughout the nation for its excellent arrangement and musical setting. Especially fitting for this Lenten season, the film is climaxed by the crucifixion of Christ, and the final scenes symbolize the tranquility and peace of the resurrection. No better film is known which covers the life and death of Christ so completely.

The Glenview youth group extends an invitation to all neighboring parishes and friends of the community to attend this sacred program in the church auditorium.

Boy suffers amputated toe as he runs into Northwestern train

Seven year old Billy Remington, 315 Fairview ave., Park Ridge, narrowly escaped death late Tuesday morning of last week when he darted under railroad gates at the Prospect ave. crossing and ran into the side of a north bound Chicago & Northwestern train pulling out of the station.

Billy was rushed to Evanston hospital where doctors amputated the large toe of his right foot. Other foot bones were broken and he sustained bruises.

According to witnesses, four or five school boys waited on the west side of Prospect at the crossing for a Chicago bound train to pull out of the station and then dashed around the gates into the side of a north-bound train pulling out. Persons near by said steam from the trains partially blocked the view of the northbound train.

Glenview blood bank is 'paying off'

"Glenview Health Council wishes to thank publicly all those who have volunteered as Glenview Blood Bank donors. These public-spirited citizens are giving their community a valuable health service. In addition to making live blood of the right type available to any Glenview resident, they have materially reduced the cost of blood transfusions to families where illness or accident strikes," said Albert C. Gunsaulus, chairman of the Health Council.

A total of nearly 30 Glenview citizens have already responded to the Health Council's drive for donors to the community blood bank. Of these, 32 have donated 34 units of blood and 43 are awaiting call as needed.

The cost of blood from the blood bank is only $10 for the first unit and $5 for each additional unit required for the same illness.

Taxes increase 100% in ten years

A comparison of 1916 tax receipts with the ones of 1906 show that the taxes of Palatine township are nearly 100% greater than 10 years ago and still they are going up. The state tax this year is the highest in history and will be 20% higher next year. An effort is being made to have the maximum tax rate allowed for villages increased.

One of the long-fingered gentry broke into the Otto Dierking buffet, Roselle, tapped the till for about $15 and after sampling a few drinks and cigars, helped himself to a bottle of whiskey and a box of cigars. Otto expects to wait on his early morning customers himself after this. All that is necessary is to make enough noise to get him down stairs.

The rural mail carriers of this territory have been loaded down the past week with "gold bricks" that are being mailed to the farmers in hopes of separating them from some of their hard earned cash. The "bricks" are colored with finely illustrated pages of "bargains" that have hitherto brought many dollars to the mail order houses.

On account of the high prices that are prevalent everywhere the catalog houses realize that every means known to them and their advertising writers and artists to deceive the people must be exercised at this time to keep their customers ignorant to the true market conditions today.

Those who have hitherto paid little attention to trade-at-home arguments, such as better quality, home spirit and mutual town benefit, now find themselves face to face with the question as to whether they are willing to pay the mail order houses more than they do their home merchants.

It is a fact that can be easily proven that the home merchants, in their effort to keep the high cost of living down, are finding that their percentage of profit today is about half what it was two years ago. It is only by careful buying, stoppage of all leaks, and the cutting of expenses to a minimum that the home merchant is able to continue in business today.

The result is that he is selling as cheap or cheaper today as the mail order houses. The latter are depending upon a few "leaders" on which they lose money to make the farmer think they are cheap in all things.

Every man who has hitherto bought from a mail order house is urged to investigate the situation on his own hook. If he wants to buy wholesale, the home store keeper is ready to accommodate him. Make out an order—take it to the store keeper, get the wholesale cash in advance price, compare it with the "Bluff 'Em Good Mail Order Co." and buy where you can do the best.

Firm moves to Chicago

The Berbecker & Sons Co. moved their Arlington Hts. office this week to 312 West Madison St., east of the Hearst Building, Chicago, where they have a suite of rooms 40x170 ft. May 1 they will combine both offices in one. This change will cause quite a loss in the business of Arlington Heights postoffice and all their help from here will have to pay railroad fare to and from the city.

Eggs drop to 30 cents

Some farmers are holding potatoes in their cellars expecting to get $5 a bag. One man was kind enough to sell 10 bags to a local business man for $4 per. The bottom can be expected to drop out of the potato market soon. Eggs dropped down to 30 cents overnight Tuesday, with the result that those of our storekeepers, who had several cases on hand, are losers. One Elk Grove farmer took a truck load of onions to Chicago last week and received over $900.

Lorenz Sander, West Northfield, had a narrow escape Sunday when "tin Lizzie" ran away with him. His Ford tried to skate on a piece of glary ice and circle around frightened passengers. He says he will hereafter be opposed to speeding too fast, especially on slippery roads.

Tales of the STREET

BY I. C. HART

LION OR LAMB

With the advent of March 1st this week another old weather adage gets a try out. There is an old saying that if March comes in like a lion it will go out like a lamb and that if it comes in like a lamb it will go out like a lion.

So the weather prophets are waiting for the coming of March 1st to see whether or not it is going to be lamb-like or lion-like at the start of the month. A lion-like start for March will be welcomed by the garden fans who then would have hopes that the weather would get lamb-like toward the end of the month and maybe permit an early start on gardening operations.

GETTING READY

The folks out in Palanosis Park are really getting serious about this garden business. They have organized a garden club and have had soil tests made to see what kinds of soil they are going to have to deal with in their gardening operations.

Soil conditions in Palanosis should be immensely good as that territory was formerly good productive farm land for the most part, and should yield itself readily to the growing of garden crops and flowers.

Residents of the new development have already learned that gardening is not only a lot of fun, but also a lot of work.

EXAMPLE

We heard a youngster being admonished against ever crossing the railroad tracks when the bells were ringing and lights were going. The young man took it all in and then remarked, "Why, other people cross when the bells are ringing," and he even told about seeing a car that just got across one day.

So there may be a lesson to the older folks. While it may be safe for an adult to cross when the bells first start and a train is still far away, the example of doing so may set a bad example for some youngster whose parents are doing their best to teach the juvenile to stay off the tracks when the signals are warning.

SKATING POND

We've had a lot of snappy weather this winter that would have been plenty good for skating, yet we haven't heard the usual agitation for a skating pond. In years past such a year, and most of the organizations in town have at one time or another sponsored a pond with more or less satisfactory results.

Maybe when the new park gets going a real skating rink that will really hold water will be constructed so that the long dreamed of skating pond in Palatine will become a reality. Clarence Urhammer did get a small skating rink into operation on a vacant lot near his home and the enthusiastic reception given to Clarence's pond by the youngsters of the neighborhood attests to the popularity that would greet a full fledged public rink.

POTATO BUGS

It's pretty early in the season to begin talking about potato bugs, but Charlie Schering was wondering the other day if we were going to have any this year. Last summer was a most unusual season in the bug line. There was not only an almost total absence of potato bugs, but of other insect pests as well. The striped cucumber beetle, the tomato worm, the various families of aphids or plant lice and many other insects were conspicuous last season by their absence.

Just why that condition prevailed no one seems to know, but at least it was a welcome relief for the gardeners to have their many pests nearly absent for a whole season. Now the question as to whether or not this will be another bugless year is a topic that is interesting the garden fans.

It will be some little time before Charlie's questions about the potato bugs can be answered. Maybe we might have another bug free year, and then again maybe Charlie will have to get out the old sprinkling can and the arsenate of lead and go after the pests the way he always had to until last summer.

Time alone will give the answer, but the gardeners would welcome another bugless season.

BUSY POLICE

Local police were kept busy one night recently rounding up a wanderer and holding him for the highway police, and is keeping track of a stranger who was hanging around town and who was finally arrested and held for the Barrington police.

The man was wanted for an embezzlement from his employer, and the tip was given to the Barrington police that he was in Palatine. His detention by the local police followed.

MARCH BREEZES

The March breezes will soon be blowing and with them will come the first real signs of spring. It won't be long until the pussy willows will be popping open their caps and showing their soft dainty faces. Many a year the pussy willows are out by this time of year.

Then when those warm March breezes start wafting up from the southland it won't be long before some of the spring birds start making their appearance. The robins usually show up as soon as any of the early arrivals and out in the country a few bluebirds will be shooting in and out among the bushes and perching jauntily on the fence posts. After an early spring rain on

'Give us facts and figures'

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

Two people writing in last week's Fence Post, objecting to consolidation, speak for a great number of voters. We all know the board members put over consolidation and their own election to office, springing a surprise election and keeping the public from knowing the facts.

It still keeps us in the dark. It expects us to vote for buying land and building schools but it does not give us the figures. How much of our money has been poured down the sewer this year by having our children driven all over the country in busses? What has been gained by that? If we are to vote for building and grounds we want something more than the bungling of the past year. The Board seems to think that it is all none of our business except to approve of what they do.

Why doesn't Palatine have somebody on the Board that knows what it is all about? In our community there are several people who are professional educators. They are high salary people in other school systems. Why do we have to be content with amateurs men who want to be on the Board just to make them feel important? Another thing. One member moved away and his place was taken by another man. Who elected him? There was no election, but we see another name on the Board list.

ARLINGTON SOFTBALL

Don't you worry your pretty little head (I hope "Dolly" is a girl) any further about the Arlington Athletic Association being caught behind the "eight ball" when it comes to planning the Arlington Heights softball season!

The club is already hard at work rounding out the plans for a very full season which will include tournaments between senior, junior, flyweight and girl teams. There will be trophies donated by the club for all winners and competent coaching and training facilities.

The plans will be announced just as soon as they are finished—and in plenty of time—fear not. How about an entry from you, Dolly? All you have to do, or all any group that would like to play softball has to do, is write to the association president, Herbert Mahumed, Route 1, Box 7, Arlington Heights, or just buttonhole any club member on the street and tell him what you have in mind.

Herbert Mahumed
Arlington Heights.

ther man. Who elected him? There was no election, but we see another name on the Board list.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by Leland Ellis Truxell

The other day I was moving along on my route, occupied with the mail I was delivering and little else, when I heard some one singing. The voice was not trained, but it was strong, clear, and had an appeal, tender quality to it that aroused my interest at once.

I came to the house where the music was coming from. The house was being aired, so that the door was partially opened, and I could see the woman who was singing, busily cleaning away at the venetian blinds.

I stood there a moment then placed the mail in the mail slot. The noise drew her attention, and she stopped singing and came to the door.

She was a heavy set woman, in her fifties, with soft, creamy skin and deep brown eyes. There was a twinkle in her eyes that seemed to make them dance. There was a brave set to her shoulders, that gave her a quiet air of confidence and pride. Her smile seemed to light the darkness of the interior with a sort of luminous glow.

"I enjoyed your singing," I said. She laughed a little, then with soft pride she answered, "They call me the singing scrub lady," she said. "I've been making a living at my work for the past fifteen years, since my husband died. I ask for, and I get more pay than most of the women who do this work. People say my singing is an antidote for the blues."

"Is it easier to work when you are singing?" I asked. "Of course," she replied. "And when you do your work the glory way, you feel like singing." "The glory way?" I asked. "That is what I call doing the best I can, being a good, thoughtful, efficient worker, cleaning other people's houses as carefully and as conscientiously as if they were my own. Scrubbing and cleaning isn't a very wonderful job. There is no glory in it—unless you seek to bring glory to it. That makes it no longer an ordinary job. That makes it an art!"

What a powerful thought! This woman had won the confidence and respect of others, their love also, because she refused to see her job as an ordinary and hard way to eek out a living. She brought a sense of importance to her job, an attitude that raised it to an art.

She did her work in a manner that she could be proud of. Here was no sense of inferiority or shame! Here was no slothful, bitter, sarcastic worker! Far from being beaten by her place in life, she had made her occupation interesting and alive by bringing to it a sense of importance and responsibility and pride that lifted it out of the ordinary, and made it a glorious expression of her own personality. She did her work the glory. She was the singing scrubwoman—and she was proud of it. Where there was no glory in her work, she had sought, and brought glory to it—and it colored and glorified her whole life.

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

I've mentioned our bachelor friend, Jim, to you on many occasions, I'm sure. We think of him as the perfect example of "the-man-about-town," and find him not a little amusing.

He is forever trying to "get back" at us for our unceasing teasing, and his manner of retorting has at times been embarrassing, to say the least. For instance, he dates on periodically sending us all types of ridiculous literature that advertise their contents on the outside of the envelopes, such as, "Miss So and So's Charm School," or "Reducing School," or "A Hundred ways to develop your personality," and "Ten Lessons Free on How to Play the Piccolo." It's getting so I'm afraid to meet the mailman. I know he thinks I must be cracked in the head, for no doubt, he believes I spend my leisure sending for all this junk.

The latest, a small booklet, arrived yesterday. In bold print the mailman (I'm sure) and I read or the envelope: "What Women Fall For." (Maybe, the mailman thinks Rob sent for this one!)

This article is written by a man, I presume. He calls himself, "The Manhattan Philosopher." It's hilariously funny in parts, so I've decided to copy some of the contents for your amusement.

"Count Mirabeau, who was the homeliest man of the 18th century, fascinated the ladies, including his queen Marie Antoinette. He was ugly as sin, but elegant and brainy. Jacob Casanova was terrible to look at, yet, as you know, he was master of a thousand women. Beau Brummel had only passable looks, but he was the best-dressed man of his age, and women swarmed about him.

I cited were not opulent. Great wealth, youth, and beauty are undeniable advantages — to put it mildly — yet a dozen different unattractive things may attract women to men, because women are inconsistent and completely incomprehensible in the bestowing of their love. Sometimes they really go to extremes they love hopelessly an ugly murtation locked in Alcatraz for the rest of his life, while a handsome man with a spotless past may kneel before them in desperate adoration."

"I won't have the space to write this word for word, so I'll just enumerate in the order in which the "philosopher" puts the important things for a man to remember about women."

"No woman is interested in a man who is slovenly. A man can really look as ugly as the devil, but if he is fastidious about his person, dresses with taste, he can expect his life to be pleasantly complicated by women incessantly and forever."

"A woman will expect courage (not the hapless kind), constancy, generosity, kindness mingled with firmness, a somewhat choleric temperament (which assures against boredom), and bold decision. And may ladies declare that a thing universally thought to be unattractive — baldness attracts them. So do spectacles, by the way."

"To elaborate on all these male features which attract women, it is rather well-known that women prefer a devil-may-care truck driver to a harassed university professor or a frantic foreign financier here to negotiate a loan. The admiration of male courage is as old as the universe; and probably constancy is the strongest virtue of a lover. Even the most frugal woman blushes if a man leaves a ten-cent tip, and therefore generosity in a man, even in small matters, delights a woman."

In the long run women like kind men; but woe to the man who doesn't show firmness when the lady is in error! The choleric temperament, when it does not manifest itself in a repulsive form, appeals to women most and keeps alive their imagination; the even-tempered Anglo-Saxon is too prosaic for the woman who essentially has a poetic soul. Boldness and quick decision are so opposed to women's natural modesty and great hesitancy, that these virtues are always attractive to the feminine sex.

"Women of all ages are amused by a man who is a good talker but are not particularly interested in him. A man who talks little appears mysterious."

"The clever woman studies a man's early youth; a man who in his younger days encountered misfortune has a much stronger character and is more apt to be ardent than a fellow whose life was easy, gay, and cheerful."

"A man who pleases too many women usually doesn't please any particular one deeply."

"One thing is certainly true. Every man who strongly attracts a woman recalls to her the other men whom she knew before, probably going back to her bobby sox age. Moreover, it is a well known fact that young girls are attracted to older men, and very young men to older women."

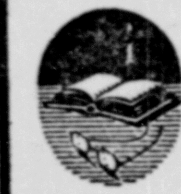

Well, enough of this trivia, it gave me a laugh, though, even if I can't say I thoroughly agree with the so-called "philosopher." But may have a few points there, at that.

With love, Mary.

Disability payments

Compensation and pensions for disabled veterans in the Illinois region reached a new high of $5,151,000 last month. Veterans Administration officials said today. Payments were made to 114,482 ex-servicemen and women, 93,000 of whom served in World War II.

More than 3,000 veterans filed disability claims with the VA during January. Disability payments range from $13.80 to $360 a month.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver and Robin McKown

From David L. Cohn's "This Is the Story" comes this story of an unsuspecting American Major who found life surprisingly comfortable in liberated Paris. In a time of acute housing shortage the Major was living in a large and ornately decorated apartment which even boasted a huge bathroom filled with gadgets.

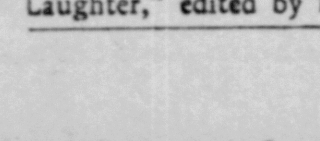

DAVID L. COHN

The Major explained how all this had come his way. He had been talking to a French lady at tea and mentioned what he wanted. She told him that she had just the thing for him and described it in detail. He replied that he thought it would be much too expensive. She said it would cost him nothing.

The apartment, it seemed, belonged to dear friends who were staying indefinitely in the country. On their behalf she could say they would be delighted to have an American officer occupy it rent-free for as long as he stayed in Paris. The Major took it for granted that it was his charm that brought him this piece of luck. The answer to the mystery was simple. He was occupying the apartment of a collaborator in hiding. As long as an American officer was living in it, it was unlikely that its possessions would be molested.

According to Lewis Gannett in the current Book-of-the-Month Club News, John Steinbeck began his literary career at the age of four. At that time he discovered "high" rhymed with "fly" and began immediately composing poetry. Now one of the best-known American writers in all parts of the globe, his new novel, "The Wayward Bus," is his third to be chosen by the Book-of-the-Month Club.

G. B. Shaw and G. K. Chesterton were great friends and great opposites—Shaw, a lean vegetarian; Chesterton, an obese meat eater. Once at a public dinner, Chesterton stared pointedly at Shaw's thin figure and remarked, "Looking at you, Shaw, people would think there was a famine in England." Turning to his rotund companion, Shaw observed, "And looking at you, Chesterton, people would think you were the cause of it."—From "A Treasury of Laughter," edited by Louis Untermeyer.

Heart disease, cancer take most lives in this area

Heart disease and cancer have replaced contagious diseases as the greatest causes of death in the Chicago area, though tuberculosis still ranks inexcusably high.
It was emphasized in a report on disease mortality rates released by the Advisory Committee of the Chicago-Cook County Health Survey.

Deaths from the principal communicable diseases of the past have decreased so markedly in the past 50 years, as to "approach insignificance," in most instances, the report said. The mortality rates were cited as part of the United States Public Health Service audit of metropolitan health conditions, requested by the city and county governments. The report said:

"In Chicago during the period 1940-44, heart disease killed 67,
508 persons and cancer killed 27,
047, while tuberculosis was responsible for 3,505 deaths. If known methods for the control of tuberculosis were to be put into effect, a very substantial reduction could be accomplished during the next five years over the 8,505 tuberculosis deaths in the five years 1940-44."

Meanwhile, the report continued, great increases have also occurred in deaths due to heart disease, cancer, and nephritis (inflammation of the kidneys).

"The sustained control of the communicable diseases has been responsible to some extent for the rise in the number of deaths in those other categories," the report asserted, "since persons who in former times would have died at an early age from acute contagious diseases are being saved from these hazards and permitted to reach the ages where the so-called degenerative diseases take a heavy toll.

"The modern problem of extending the life span is mainly one of holding the line on the major epidemic diseases, stamping out the few which persist today, and tackling the great killers—heart disease and cancer."

Heart disease and cancer are responsible for 52 per cent of all deaths in Chicago and Cook County, it was emphasized, and contrary to widespread popular belief they attack all age groups, although principally persons over 25 years of age.

From 1940 through 1944, the report disclosed, deaths due to heart disease averaged 397.5 per 100,000 population. Smallpox, when most prevalent in 1892, killed 230.7 per 100,000 and scarlet fever "at its worst in 1859 killed 272 per 100,000."

Significantly, the report emphasized, heart disease is not confined to the aged.

"During the period 1940 to 1944, it was the principal cause of death among persons 25 through 44 years of age, and was responsible for 24.4 per cent of all deaths in this age group."

"Even in the age groups five through 14 and 15 through 24 years, it ranked second, exceeded only by accidents in the five to 14 group and tuberculosis in the 15 to 24 group."

Cancer now accounts for 15 per cent of all deaths in Chicago and "is second to heart disease in its destruction of human life." Recent increases in the number of deaths per year have been revealed, as in heart disease by modern diagnostic techniques the increase representing to a large extent the types of cancer formerly difficult to diagnose.

The healthiest age group, according to mortality statistics, is the five through 14 year group, which had a death rate in the 1940 through 1944 period of only one per 1,000.

The infant mortality rate (under one year of age) in Chicago has shown a steady downward trend, principally in the ages of one to 12 months, it was shown by figures for the 20 years, 1925 1945. "In 1925, for each 1,000 live births, 72.9 babies died. In 1944, 30.1 died, or 58.7 per cent less than in 1925."

In the one through four year age group, the mortality rate in Chicago has been reduced from 24.1 per 1,000 in 1895 to 2.2 per thousand in 1940 through 1944.

"This reduction reflects great accomplishment in the field of infant welfare," the report pointed out. Pneumonia has remained the principal cause of death since 1897 in this age group but the rate has been greatly reduced.

"During the period 1940
through 1944 the average pneumonia death rate was 41.4 per 100,000 in this age group; during 1897 through 1901, the average rate was 363.9 per 100,000."

Gems of thought

VICTORY
There is some victory gained in every gallant struggle that is made.

—Charles Dickens.
Not in the clamor of the crowded street,
Not in the shouts and plaudits of the throng,
But in ourselves, we triumph and defeat.

A heart loyal to God is patient and strong. Justice waits, and is used to waiting; and right wins the everlasting victory.

—Mary Baker Eddy.
In the economy of God, no effort, however small, put forth for the right cause, fails of its effect.

—John Greenleaf Whittier.
Mankind is not disposed to look narrowly into the conduct of great victors when their victory is on the side of right.

It is when the hour of conflict is over, that history comes to a right understanding of the strife, and is ready to exclaim,
"Lo, God is here, and we knew it not!"

—Bancroft.

Strength of Joist
Good flooring, whether of oak or other hardwood, must have sturdy joists as foundation. Other factors being equal, the strength of a floor joist varies according to the square of the depth. Stiffness, or resistance to sag, varies according to the cube of the depth. Thus a joist 10 inches deep will be about 1 1/4 times as strong and nearly twice as stiff as a joist 8 inches deep.

Washington Letter

From the office of:
THOMAS L. OWENS, M. C.

Well, at last it appears as though the old 7th Congressional District will be dismantled—or should we use the correct term, and say redistricted.
Thinking, therefore, that it might be interesting to you to know how it is to be divided (unless further changes are made by the Illinois Assembly), here are the cutting details.

First of all, as you probably now know, the State is to be divided so that there will be 13 districts in Cook and Lake Counties combined, with the other 13 districts divided between the balance of the State. Inasmuch as the average population of the Cook and Lake County division will average about 25,000 more persons per district than down-state, it has been agreed that after the 1950 census, when Illinois will undoubtedly be entitled to one more congressman, Cook County will get that representative, either at large, or in a new division of Cook and Lake Counties.

One part of the old 7th, that is, all of the country Townships of Leyden, Norwood Park, Maine, Elk Grove, Wheeling,
Palatine, Barrington, Schaun-berg and Hanover will be in the new 13th District. The balance of that district will be the Townships of Niles, Northfield, New Trier and Evanston and the County of Lake. The population will be about 335,000.

The meetings of the Committee on Education and Labor have been functioning from morning until evening during the past week, but all matters heard concerned labor. On Wednesday, February 12, Mr. Hoyt Steele, Vice-President of Benjamin Electric Company, Des Plaines, testified before the committee on the subject of "Secondary Boycotts." He made a very excellent presentation of the matter, and his effort was well received; in fact, it was the very best testimony yet given on the subject.

Divorces

Mrs. Rose Schultz, 123 Emerson st., Mt. Prospect, obtained a divorce last week from Herbert Schultz on charge of desertion. Mrs. Schultz was given the right to resume her maiden name.

On a charge of cruelty Mrs.
Margaret L. Simmons, 1749 Shermer ave., Northbrook, obtained a divorce from Herschel A.
Simmons.

Mrs. Mary Filloon, 125 Colfax ave., Palatine, told Superior Judge George H. Fisher as she obtained a divorce from Jesse Filloon that she would rather expect only $10 a week and get it than to ask for $25
a week and not get it. Mrs.
Filloon was told by the judge that she should have $25 a week for the support of her three children. They parted July 15, 1942.

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: My son died in service. He had worked in a factory for one year after leaving school prior to entering the armed forces. As a dependent parent, am I entitled to Social Security benefits and where do I apply?

Answer: The "insured" should have earned $50.00 or more in each of six or more calendar quarters, in order to establish survivor benefits. However, you should file your claim with the nearest field office of the Social Security Board. That office is located at 1045 West Lawrence Avenue, Chicago, Illinois. They will check his earnings to determine if there was sufficient coverage.

Question: Is money received from Social Security classified as income for widow's pension purpose in non-service connected cases?

Answer: Yes. Money received from Social Security (Old-Age & Survivors Insurance) is classified as income and must be reported when filing for widow's pension.

Question: I have to quit my job to go to the hospital for an indefinite period. Can I collect on my readjustment allowance while I am in the hospital?

Answer: An applicant must be able and available and registered for work in order to collect readjustment allowance.

Question: Where do I send remittances on my National Service Life Insurance?

Answer: To the Insurance Division, Veterans Administration Branch No. 7, Chicago 7, Ill.

LAW on the FARM

Commercial Fertilizers. — The analysis, labeling and sale of commercial fertilizers are regulated in Illinois by an act passed in 1927 and amended in 1945. Subject to the act are any substances, including combinations or mixtures, designed and offered for sale for use in increasing crop yields when applied to the soil. Excluded are the natural products, agricultural limestone, manure and unprocessed animal manure, which have not been manipulated so as to alter or change them chemically, and burnt or hydrated lime.

The act provides that, before any commercial fertilizer is sold or exposed or offered for sale, a statement must be filed with the State Department of Agriculture giving the name and address of the manufacturer and a guaranteed analysis showing the percentage of nitrogen, avail-

March 1 to 9 is named national 4-H club week

Illinois 4-H club boys and girls are constantly "working together for a better home and world community," but they will place special emphasis on this theme during National 4-H Club Week, March 1 to 9, 1947. A state-wide campaign is being planned to encourage young people between the ages of 10 and 20 to become 4-H Club members and to help them get started in accordance with sound 4-H Club procedure.

The state 4-H membership goal for 1947 is 50,000 members. County quotas are set at 25 percent of all potential boys and girls of 4-H club age. These counties which have already achieved this membership will make an effort to increase last year's enrollment by 50 percent. A variety of plans are being laid to observe National 4-H Club Week. In addition to window displays and posters in local stores, there will be special proclamations from mayors and 4-H programs in schools and churches. Some county groups are planning rallies and parades; others will furnish representatives for adult organization meetings to discuss 4-H work. In addition, some counties will send circular letters to 4-H leaders, club presidents and parents of club members.

Nationally, 4-H week will be featured by the most recent 4-H report by radio to the nation. Special messages will also be issued from the President and other high-ranking officials.

HAIRCUTS FOR A PENNY!

BRUSH YOUR TEETH. COMB YOUR HAIR! — These by-words your Greek War Relief Association supervisor teaches the youth of Greece. A million children eat a warm, noonday meal at GWRA feeding centers. Thousands of orphans are given "foster homes." $6.60 supports an orphan one month; $2.00 feeds a school child one month. Pennies can save Greece's children today—your son's neighbor of tomorrow. ## Urge better control of area milk inspection

Although Chicago and Cook County rate high among cities and counties in the United States for milk sanitation, improvement in the inspection services is needed immediately if these high standards are to be protected, according to a report released today by the Advisory Committee of the Chicago-Cook County Health Survey.

The survey, checking sanitary controls over city and county milk supplies from the farm to the finished products, also criticized the ordinance recently adopted by the Cook County Board of Commissioners, which requires all milk and milk products (but not frozen desserts) to be pasteurized, but fails to specify grading.

"Hence, all milk cannot be classified as Grade A," the report declared. The report is another section on the survey of metropolitan health conditions made by the United States Public Health Service at the request of city and county officials.

While milk in Chicago was rated at 91 per cent for compliance with conditions set up in the recommended U. S. Public Health Service Ordinance and Code, and Cook County as a whole had a rating of 87.7 per cent, "high for countries in the United States," Evanston had a rating of only 75.01 per cent for raw milk from 35 dairy farms under the control of the Evanston Health Department and 73.13 per cent for three pasteurization plants.

"The weighted rating for all milk sold in Evanston was 86.74 per cent, the increase being due to the fact that 77 per cent of the milk sold in the city was being produced under control of other agencies maintaining a more efficient control," the report said.

"Inspection is carried on largely by non-technically trained men who are not under technical supervision," the report added. "The failure of the control to meet the required 90 per cent appears to be largely due to defects in cleanliness and bactericidal treatment of equipment containers."

"This in addition to other factors indicates a lack of proper inspection methods or a lack of knowledge on the part of the inspectors as to what constitutes proper inspection."

It was pointed out that the

VA office offers help to next of kin of world war dead

The Illinois Veterans Commission offers its services to the next of kin of deceased servicemen of World War II in arranging for return of the deceased's body from overseas for reburial at home.

The Commission pointed out that the federal government will pay the cost of returning a deceased veteran's body from overseas for reinterment at the place designated by the legal next of kin. The government also will pay up to $50 of the local private burial expense.

A flag is provided for all military personnel who died in service. It is used to drape the casket during military funeral and then is given to next of kin. Headstones also will be furnished if desired, the expense of setting being borne by the State.

Burial may be made in the national cemeteries, where perpetual care is assured. If arrangements are made at the time of the burial of the serviceman, the wife may be interred in the same grave upon her death.

These facts about the reburial of military personnel were pointed out in connection with the Commission's campaign to contact the next of kin of all Illinois servicemen dying in service. Headquarters for the campaign in this area is the Illinois Veterans Commission Service Office located at 210 N. Duntan Ave., Arlington Heights.

Seek flower show carnation queen

Somewhere in Chicagoland is the unknown beauty who will be chosen "Carnation Queen" when the flower show is in progress March 16 to 23 at International Amphitheatre. After preliminary judging, the finalists will be greeted March 18 at the Congress Hotel by officials of the American Carnation Society, who will judge the winner. Contestants have been invited to send their photographs at once to Patricia Stevens, 30 West Washington St., Chicago.

service training for new employees.

2 — Establishment of in-service training for all inspectors at regular intervals "in order that uniformity of ordinance interpretations by inspectors be attained and faults in inspection procedure be corrected."

3 — Better supervision in the field by competent supervisors.

4 — Careful review of the qualifications of new employees prior to appointment.

5 — Replacement of inspectors found to be incompetent or physically unable to properly carry on their duties.

6 — Providing milk producers with information that enable them to remedy defective conditions.

Farm fires take heavy death toll

One fourth of all accidental farm deaths result from burns, according to national farm accident statistics.

In addition to this tremendous loss of life fire can destroy, in an hour, the profits of years labor. The cost of fire in the U. S. last year was $484,000,000.

In the majority of accidents due to fire, the cause is carelessness or neglect. Early everyone, even children, knows that it is dangerous to "hurry up" the fire in a stove with gasoline or kerosene, yet hundreds of people are burned to death or homes burned to the ground, because of hurry to get the fire going.

Frayed electric cords, rubbish accumulation in attics, closets or close to the basement furnace, are other "causes" high on the list. Filling car, truck or tractor fuel tank in a closed building, with the engine running, is among the most important "don'ts."

Take time now, when work is slack, to inspect your home and farm buildings for possible fire hazards. You may save your home, your farm buildings and even the lives of your family.

Lake Shore Sugar Company ready to contract this year

Emil F. Schoppe, R. 2, Bensenville, representative for the Lake Shore Sugar Company, Holland, Mich., announces the contract for growing sugar beets in 1947 has been completed. The price outlook is better than it ever has been, since the price has been increased by $1.00 per ton making the payment $15.50 per ton on beets of average quality. There will be a slight increase of acreage in the county.

Farm building improvement to suffer in '47

Farm building improvement will suffer, and needed building will not be done in 1947 because of shortage of building labor and material.

D. G. Carter, University of Illinois, speaking before a Farm and Home Week audience at Urbana, declared that although the production of materials is increasing, much of the supply is going into housing and industrial and commercial building.

Carter, who is professor of farm structures and a noted authority in the field, said that there was no question about the urgent need for more farm buildings not only to make up for the lag in construction during the war, but also to offset the lack of improvement dating back to the depression.

"But farmers have to consider their long-time income in making building investments," Carter declared. "It will not do to build at peak prices and pay the cost when prices decline. On the other hand, farmers are losing profits because they do not have the cribs, machine sheds and barns that give the best service."

Carter expects that, while some urgently needed buildings will be put up in 1947, the greatest boom in farm construction will come only when dealers' yards are well stocked and prices are settled.

Much improvement can be done now, however, he believes, by salvaging material from old buildings, using woodlot lumber, making changes in driveways, barnyards and feedlots and purchasing labor-saving equipment.

A job testing cows for production?

"Some farm boy who is good at figures and interested in dairying can get a job in North Cook County with Dairy Herd Improvement Association No. 2," states Farm Advisor Hughes.

"This is a job that will give a young man a better knowledge of dairy farming. He is to replace Mr. William Reimer who is going to college under the G. I. Bill. Anyone interested see me as the job is open March 1st. He will have an opportunity to learn working with Mr. Laseus and Mr. Reimer before he leaves."

County poultrymen eligible to enter national contest

Cook County poultrymen will compete with poultry breeders in ten north central states in the 1947 phase of the nationwide Chicken-of-Tomorrow program with more than 2,500 poultry raisers from this county eligible to enter the competition, according to D. D. Slade, chairman of the national Chicken-of-Tomorrow contest committee.

All that is required for Cook County poultrymen to become a part of this important breeding program is a flock of 50 baby chicks hatched between May 4th and 10th, Slade said. "Poultrymen entering the contest are urged to contact Cliff Carpenter, president of Institute of American Poultry Industries, Chicago, chairman of the contest committee in this state."

Aimed at developing chickens with improved meat-type characteristics, the contest carries a $5,000 grand prize in 1948 provided by A. & P. Food Stores and $5,000 in regional prizes. The top award will go to the poultry breeder who develops the most improved meat-type chicken.

4-H club offers much of interest to young people

"More than ten million boys and girls can testify to the fun and benefit of participating in a 4-H club," says C. A. Hughes, Cook County farm adviser, "because that many young people have been 4-H club members. A large part of these 4-Hers are, or were, right here in Illinois, for every county in our state has 4-H club work, and many of them are right from our own county."

"Cook county boys and girls who take part in 4-H have a wide range of activities from which to choose," according to Mr. Hughes. They can learn how to make their own clothes, to decorate their own rooms or to landscape the grounds about their home. They can learn how to earn money by raising cattle, how to produce honey, to manage a farm or to install farm electricity."

"Four-Hers watch their health habits, they learn to know and sing good music and they become better citizens by learning to work with others in a democratic type of organization. They can take part in party-a-month projects and give demonstrations—two of the activities which give them poise and teach them to assume responsibilities."

"But it isn't all work. Four-H clubs have lots of good times together. They make friends through county, state and national meetings."

Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 20 interested in these—or any—phases of 4-H club work should contact Mr. Hughes, Cook County Farm Bureau, Arlington Heights. He can give complete information about 4-H work and the requirements for becoming a member.

Next August 4-H members will have an excellent show at Arlington Heights with the Farm Bureau and Chamber of Commerce sponsoring the event.

Humus — soil conditioner

Does your soil seem to be harder to work than it used to be? F. H. Crane, associate professor of soil fertility in the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says if it does, you're not just imagining things.

He says on most farms the supply of humus has been whittled down until it doesn't have the protective action against clay that it once had. He explains that when the clay particles in a soil are coated with a good, thick film of humus, the clay and larger soil particles don't slip over each other as easily, nor stick together tightly. The shrinkage and swelling of the humus by wetting and drying elbows the clay particles apart and helps to make a good granular structure. Freezing and thawing are more effective in loosening the soil if it contains plenty of humus.

A good supply of humus increases water-holding capacity, but lets excess water drain away freely. Rain—and roots—penetrate better, and the aeration in a loose soil promotes desirable chemical changes and the activity of nitrogen-fixing bacteria. And the humus holds the nitrogen after it's fixed.

Besides the nitrogen, humus holds one-fourth to two-thirds of the phosphorus in a soil and smaller but readily usable portions of potassium and other plant food elements.

Crane reports that humus is destroyed by too frequent plowing, too many row crops, too few sod-forming legumes and grasses and other poor management practices.

Farmers study postwar farm policies, plans

One of the big problems encountered in drafting a national postwar farm program is that two-fifths of American agriculture is economically inefficient.

That's what one of the country's top agricultural economists told the Illinois Agricultural Association's statewide economic study committee in session at the IAA's headquarters.

The speaker was T. W. Schultz, chairman, department of economics, University of Chicago, and consultant to many government and private agencies concerned with agricultural policy problems, including the Committee for Economic Development. He was one of the four economists who addressed the committee of 15 dirt farmers who have been studying ways and means of developing a sound national farm policy since last September.

Schultz pointed out that in contrast with the Corn Belt or Pacific Coast, the productive efficiency of a large area of America in terms of production per man was exceedingly low. He pointed out that this factor should be taken into consideration by those in the favored areas in drafting national farm legislation.

Second point stressed by Schultz was that the aggregate output of American agriculture over the years has been remarkably stable but prices and income have been highly unstable. The economic instability of the American economy, he said, impinges on agriculture, and the remedy lies in stabilizing the whole economy. He advocated continued improvement in the stability of agricultural production rather than a crop reduction program.

"We would achieve our objective if we could get the rest of our economy to stay on the job like agriculture," he said. Second line of defense, he said, was for agriculture to put more emphasis on income than price.

Norton said he believed that our long-run farm policies will include provisions for developing full use of our land resources, encouragement of the best farming techniques which research can develop, a conservation program, a program to make credit available to worthy farmers, a varied marketing program which provides for informed trading in markets free of restriction practices, and a parity program.

He added that he hoped the parity program would be such as to encourage the maintenance of a fairly high and stable price level and high production of all kinds of goods both at home and abroad rather than a restriction program emphasizing special price supports and production controls.

ment practices. For a soil to be productive, it must have good tilth in addition to a good supply of plant food.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

F. J. FREEMAN

March 1 (1946) — "Spring again! Sunshine and warm. Heard mourning dove early A. M." So reads our journal entry on this day.

March 3rd — We saw and heard the towhee sing this Sunday morning. It has arrived about two weeks early. The song sparrows are also singing. They must have arrived during the night. We took a walk in the Deer Grove Forest Preserve this afternoon and saw many chickadees, juncos and downy woodpeckers. We also saw a flock of four or five blue birds. It has been a wonderful spring day.

March 7th — The cardinals have started to sing their spring song which sounds to us as though they were shouting "What cheer!" — a joyous thought for this time of year with nature ready to burst forth into green and the march of migrating birds commencing.

March 8th — "Cold, windy, to rain and snow; down to twenty tonight. Heard a thrush (?) sing early this morning," my wife has written. The bronze grackles and rusty blackbirds are flocking around our house in the evening and present an interesting sight. Toward evening they start to gather together in the tops of the tall maples and cottonwoods near us. They are so thick it looks as though the trees had strange black leaves. All at once the birds will take wing and the bare branches of the trees away as though in a strong wind. The flock swoops and soars and wheels with a rustle of wings to settle in another tree. Where they fly toward the house it looks as though we would be engulfed. I have never seen so many birds together before. They must number in the thousands. As dusk draws on the flocks swoop over the pines in Klehm's old nursery just on the east edge of town along Euclid avenue. At each swoop some of the birds drop out into the trees until they are all settled for the night. Late comers fly in low and straight as though wanting to avoid attracting attention. In the morning they leave in comparative quiet. Last night (March 20th) it was bright moonlight, and my wife was awake from 1:30 until after 3:00 o'clock. She could hear the grackles and robins busily chattering away in the pines. Perhaps the moonlight kept them awake. By March 28th the blackbirds were no longer flocking.

March 21st — Cornelia heard what she thought was a thrush singing in the early morning, but it turned out to be a ruby-crowned kinglet. These tiny birds, smaller than a common wren, have a notable spring song which would do credit to a larger bird for volume. As they sing their crown flares out into a cap of intense ruby-red. At other times it can be concealed. Today we also saw our first flicker of the season and heard the first spring peepers. A clear sky at dusk, a new moon and evening star reflected in the placid waters of a cat-tail fringed pond and the chorus of spring peepers — such is the essence of early spring!

March 22nd — I saw my first cedar waxwings of the year. There was a flock of them in front of Roland Ackerman's house on south Evergreen street. He tells me they have been sheltering right along in the pine trees planted around his house.

March 23rd — Cold and rainy but the mourning doves and robins are building their nests.

March 24th — Saw the first kingfisher at the Fox river today. The river was at flood tide and boiling over the dam at Algonquin. Neither cold, nor murky, rolling water daunted him from diving in for his fish dinner.

March 26th — My wife's entry: "More warm weather — up to 75 degrees. Boys shedding coats — running wild."

March 27th — Turned cold and clear today. Saw northern lights in the northeast at night. Temperature down to 38 degrees.

March 31st — This Sunday we drove to the Morton Arboretum. The prima vera, — the first green as the Italians say it — is out in the chateaus of new willow leaves on thin yellow branches. The pink and blue heptaceras were in bloom, also cherry trees, magnolias and yellow cornus bushes. Spring comes inevitably.

Stuffing Apples

When baking pears or apples, stuff the centers with dates or raisins. This adds sweetness, and only about one teaspoon sugar will be needed for each piece of fruit.

An interesting and unusual dish is Baked Banana and Cranberry Pudding. Bananas with their sweet, mellow flavor — cranberries with their distinct tartness — and whipped cream with its rich goodness, combine into a delicious pudding. When purchasing bananas, select those flecked with brown because they are fully ripe!

Baked banana and cranberry pudding:

2 large bananas, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup cranberry sauce, 2 tablespoons water, 1 cup whipping cream.

Method: Cut the bananas in half lengthwise — then in thirds. Brush the banana pieces with lemon juice. Add the water and salt to the cranberry sauce. Butter a baking dish — add the bananas and cover with the cranberry mixture. Bake for 10 minutes at 35 degrees. Serve with whipped cream.

Scientific research and the day-by-day experience of American management has provided conclusive proof that by helping people to see better, good lighting reduces fatigue, cuts accidents and errors and makes work easier.

The men and women at the Benjamin Plant make many types of scientifically designed lighting units which help to provide good, comfortable lighting to the workers in more than 35,000 small and large factories, in mines and other work places. Their knowledge and skill have helped to make Benjamin the leading manufacturer of industrial lighting equipment in this country. Their workmanship is the accepted standard in the industry and has made Benjamin equipment the most widely specified for factory lighting in the United States.

Because of this increasing demand for Benjamin equipment, American industry and business everywhere contribute to the Benjamin payroll which the folks here invest in homes and bonds and spend for food, clothing, education and worship in this community.
